Grade 12

Volume 2

1441- 1442 A.H. /2020- 2021 A.D.

Introduction

"Praise be to Allah, Who taught illiterate man (by the pen), taught man that which he knew not (writing) and praise be to Allah the Lord of the worlds and may the blessings and peace of Allah be upon the most honored of messengers our master Muhammad (ﷺ) and upon all his family and Companions".

This is the text book on Islamic Education, which we present to our dear sons and daughters the students eleventh grade, hoping that it proves to be beneficial to them.

In terms of structure, this book has adopted a unit-based approach. Each unit addresses diverse topics that collectively represent the domains and focal points of the curriculum discussing Divine Revelation, creed, the values and morals of Islam, the rulings of Islam and their purposes, the biography of Prophet Muhammad, prominent Muslim characters, national identity and contemporary issues.

The authors of the book were keen on translating curriculum criteria into comprehensive content; this necessitated identifying the outcome of learning criteria at the beginning of each lesson under the heading 'This lesson teaches me'. Each Lesson comprises an introduction titled "I take the initiative to learn", and a presentation under the heading "I use my skills to learn" and a conclusion under the heading "I organize my concepts". This is followed by student activity, which has focused on three types: a general activity to all students. This is titled "I answer by myself". There are enriching activities for distinguished students titled "Enriching my experience" and applied activities titled "I assess myself".

The book embeds an attempt to strike a balance between religious knowledge and learning activities by introducing the necessary religious knowledge and concepts to students. It has also provided them with a simultaneous gateway to increase and enrich their knowledge via classroom learning activities. The book has also targeted the realization of the characteristics of Emirati students in this age-group and developing those characteristics that peculiarly belong to the 21st century, thinking skills and the requirements of sustainable development.

The book has focused on religious knowledge and concepts that are required by students in this age-group and on linking this knowledge and these concepts to contemporary life and its novelties in the light of the principles of Sharia, whose hallmark is moderation, tolerance, positivity and individual and communal responsibilities. The book has also accorded attention to developing performance skills that relate to Islamic education and has given special emphasis to Islamic values in pursuit of structuring conscious personalities that adhere to religion and contribute to nation building.

Moreover, the book comprises multiple and diverse learning activities that contribute to developing critical thinking in students. This is a contemporaneous requirement that fortifies students against deviant ideas and uninformed imitation. Critical thinking also contributes to developing creative and inventive thinking; this channels into the UAE Vision 2021- "United in Ambition and Resolve"- in which the UAE endeavors to become the one of the best countries in the world. In its scheme, the book also seeks to develop skills of problem solving and making sound decisions in a timely manner and contributes to sharpening the skills of students and raising their awareness by investing in material and human potentialities and preserving and developing the nation's wealth.

We hope that the method of presenting topics to students aids them in utilizing their innate faculties of learning- observing, thinking, experimenting, applying, self-learning, researching, investigating and deriving conclusions built on evidence and proof.

We present this book to our sons and daughters the students hoping that it realizes the benefits perceived at the time of compiling it. These benefits comprise realizing the criteria of learning Islamic Education and developing thinking and performance skills in a persistent endeavor to equip this generation of students with the tools necessary for ingenuity, inventiveness, meeting challenges and achieving supremacy for the homeland.

Allah knows best the intention behind our deeds.

I understand the significance of the verses

Preventive measures to deter fornication

In building its social system, Islam depends on the prevention of crime before it occurs. It does not militate against innate motives, but seeks to organize them and restrict the chances of seduction and eradicate the elements of temptation. Measures taken by Islam to prevent fornication include:

First, urging youth to marry:

The Muslim society is characterized by security; it primarily consists in creating a community where quietness, tranquility, stability and happiness prevail over all, individuals and groups. In this community all are inclined towards solidarity and cooperation to sustain means of comfort and happiness to every one especially youth. The holy verses were revealed to urge guardians to facilitate marriage to unmarried young ones. This facilitation process comprises the provision of suitable accommodation, job opportunities, reasonable dowries and economical weddings and parties. The United Arab Emirates has provided houses, established a marriage fund, built wedding halls and taken other measures to assist young men in getting married and thus realizes an important goal (maqṣad مقصد) of Sharia, namely, the preservation of honor and progeny.

The Messenger (ﷺ) said,

“O young men, whoever among you can afford it, let him get married, for it is more effective in lowering the gaze and guarding one’s chastity. And whoever cannot afford it should fast, for it will be a shield for him.” (Narrated by Al-Bukhari and Muslim).

I explain:

How the following authorities facilitate marriage affairs?

The Guardian (Ruler)
Fathers
The Marriage Fund

I propose:

In cooperation with my group, I propose new solutions to the problem of expensive dowries.

I explain

the meanings of 'piety' (الصالح) as it figures in the words of Allah (تعالى):

Wa Aṣ-Ṣāliḥīna Min `Ibādikum

"...and the pious of your slaves and maid servants ..."

I identify

in the holy verse what supports the following statement:

- Getting married in search of chastity may result in increasing one's earnings.

Second, preserving one's chastity

Every society contains young men who are in the age of marriage, but they cannot afford the cost of marriage. Those young men who cannot afford the cost of marriage must preserve their chastity. This means they must persistently maintain chastity and gracious morals and avoid doing things forbidden by their society. In the same time they must seriously and diligently continue working on realizing their goals and aspirations out of confidence in their Lord, عزّ وجلّ , and His promise:

﴿... حَتَّى يُغْنِيَهُمُ اللَّهُ مِنْ فَضْلِهِ...﴾

Ĥattá Yughniyahumu Allāhu Min Faḍlihi

"...till Allah gives them independence by His grace..."

The Messenger (ﷺ) said, ""There are three types of people whom it is a right upon Allah to help and assist" until he said, "and the one who makes nikah (marriage) intending chastity" (Narrated by an-Nasa'i). A man who turns chastity and purity into the goal of his endeavors and deeds in his quest to obey his Lord, Allah (تعالى) will facilitate his journey through life and assist him in fulfilling his goals. Allah (تعالى) says:

(سورة البقرة: 153)

﴿... إِنَّ اللَّهَ مَعَ الصَّابِرِينَ﴾

Inna Allāha Ma`a Aṣ-Ṣābirīna

"...Lo! Allah is with the steadfast" (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 153).

I investigate:

In cooperation with my group, I investigate actions that assist in maintaining one's chastity.

I deduce

the significances sustained by the words of Allah (تعالى):

Lā Yajidūna Nikāḥāan

“...cannot find a match ...”

.....

I explain

How each one of the following can preserve chastity?

A man who is deterred from marriage by sickness
A woman whose husband died

I find evidence

In the holy verses to back up the fact that Islam freed slaves.

Third, prohibiting prostitution and closing all ways leading to it

Islam has forbidden fornication in general especially prostitution, which is fornication for a wage (الدعارة whoredom). Prostitution is not an individual crime occurring between two persons as the case is with fornication. Rather it is trading in sex managed through a group headed by a criminal who facilitates the process of prostitution and incites others to engage in so as to realize material interests. Prostitution is also prohibited by human and international laws especially that it has taken the form of trading with many attendant crimes like abduction, coercion, murder and drug abuse in addition to the humiliation of human dignity. Islam anticipated future legislations when it prohibited prostitution and freed slaves especially slave women who were a means of earning money and increasing the number of slave children. When Islam prohibited prostitution and commanded marrying slave women, it opened a wide door for freeing slaves and preserving human dignity. This was exactly like the mukataba (مكاتبة) contract, which gave slaves the right to set themselves free according to an agreement between the two parties: the slave and the slaveholder. To encourage this, Islam commanded Muslims to pay to the slave with a mukataba contract from their own money and from Zakat fund to set himself free. This phenomenon of slavery came to an end; but some people are trying to reinvent it in new forms such as the white slave trade, which the UAE and the rest of the world are combating.

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa Lā Tukrihū Fatayātikum `Alá Al-Bighā'i 'In 'Aradna Taḥaṣṣunān

“...“Force not your slave girls to whoredom ... if they would preserve their chastity...”

This verse points to the sound innateness in woman, which is inclined towards marriage, purity and chastity. It does not indicate a condition to non-coercion to fornication because fornication is primarily forbidden.

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

﴿وَلَا تَقْرَبُوا الزِّنَىٰ إِنَّهُ كَانَ فَحِشَةً وَسَاءَ سَبِيلًا﴾

(سورة الإسراء: 32)

Wa Lā Taqrabū Az-Zinā 'Innahu Kāna Fāḥishatan Wa Sā'a Sabīlān

“And come not near unto adultery. Lo! it is an abomination and an evil way”
(Sūrat Al-'Isrā': 32).

It also serves as a cautionary measure to some people who delay the marriage of their daughters out of greed in material or moral gains because this may lead these daughters to commit sins or fall prey to persons of malicious intentions.

I explain:

the hazards of prostitution to individuals and society.

Abdullah bin Ubay bin Salool had bondmaids whom he forced to practice prostitution even after the advent of Islam for the sake of money. One of them didn't like this and complained to Abu Bakr As-Siddiq (رضي الله عنه). The latter told the Prophet (ﷺ) upon which Allah (تعالى) revealed the verse:

﴿... وَلَا تُكْرِهُوا فَتَاتِكُمْ عَلَى الْبِغَاءِ إِنْ أَرَدْنَ تَحَصُّنًا...﴾

Wa Lā Tukrihū Fatayātikum `Alá Al-Bighā'i 'In 'Aradna Tahāṣṣunān

“...“Force not your slave girls to whoredom ... if they would preserve their chastity...”

The White Slave Trade:

This is a modern term given to exploiting women and forcing them to practice prostitution and other deviant practices.

I compare:

fornication to prostitution according to the table below:

Of Major Exegesis

Wa Laqad 'Anzalnā 'Ilaykum 'Āyātin Mubayyinātin

“And verily We have sent down for you revelations that make plain ...”

In Arabic the word مُبَيِّنَاتٍ 'Mubayyinātin' can be read in two ways: either with the vowel 'fatha' or 'kasra' in this verse to mean either 'make plain' or illustrate.

“...وَمَثَلًا...”

Wa Mathalāan

“...the example ...”

Strange news, the news of Aisha.

﴿...مِنَ الَّذِينَ خَلَوْا مِن قَبْلِكُمْ...﴾

mina Al-Ladhīna Khalaw Min Qablikum

“...those who passed away before you ...”

This means like your stories, your strange stories such as the story of Yusuf and Mariam.

﴿...وَمَوْعِظَةً لِّلْمُتَّقِينَ﴾

Wa Maw`izatan Lilmuttaqīna

“...An admonition unto those who ward off (evil)”.

The admonition is in the words of Allah (تعالى):

﴿...وَلَا تَأْخُذْكُمْ بِهِمَا رَأْفَةٌ فِي دِينِ اللَّهِ...﴾

Wa Lā Ta`khudhkum Bihimā Ra`fatun Fī Dīni Allāhi

“...And let not pity for the twain withhold you from obedience to Allah, ...”

﴿لَوْلَا إِذْ سَمِعْتُمُوهُ ظَنَّ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ...﴾

Lawlā `Idh Sami`tumūhu Ḥanna Al-Mu`uminūna

“Why did not the believers - men and women - when ye heard of the affair,- put the best construction on it in their own minds and say...”

﴿وَلَوْلَا إِذْ سَمِعْتُمُوهُ قُلْتُمْ...﴾

Wa Lawlā `Idh Sami`tumūhu Qultum

“... when you heard it, think good ...”

﴿يَعْظُمُ اللَّهُ أَنْ تَعُودُوا...﴾

Ya`izukumu Allāhu 'An Ta`udū

“Allah admonishes you that you repeat not...” etc.

The admonition is particularly addressed to those who 'ward off evil' because they will benefit from it.

I deduce:

some of the subjects incorporated in the Holy Qur'an from the following holy verse:

﴿وَلَقَدْ أَنْزَلْنَا إِلَيْكُمْ آيَاتٍ مُبَيِّنَاتٍ وَمَثَلًا مِّنَ الَّذِينَ خَلَوْا مِن قَبْلِكُمْ وَمَوْعِظَةً
لِّلْمُتَّقِينَ﴾

Wa Laqad 'Anzalnā 'Ilaykum 'Āyātin Mubayyinātin Wa Mathalāan Mina Al-Ladhīna Khalaw Min Qablikum Wa Maw`izatan Lilmuttaqīna

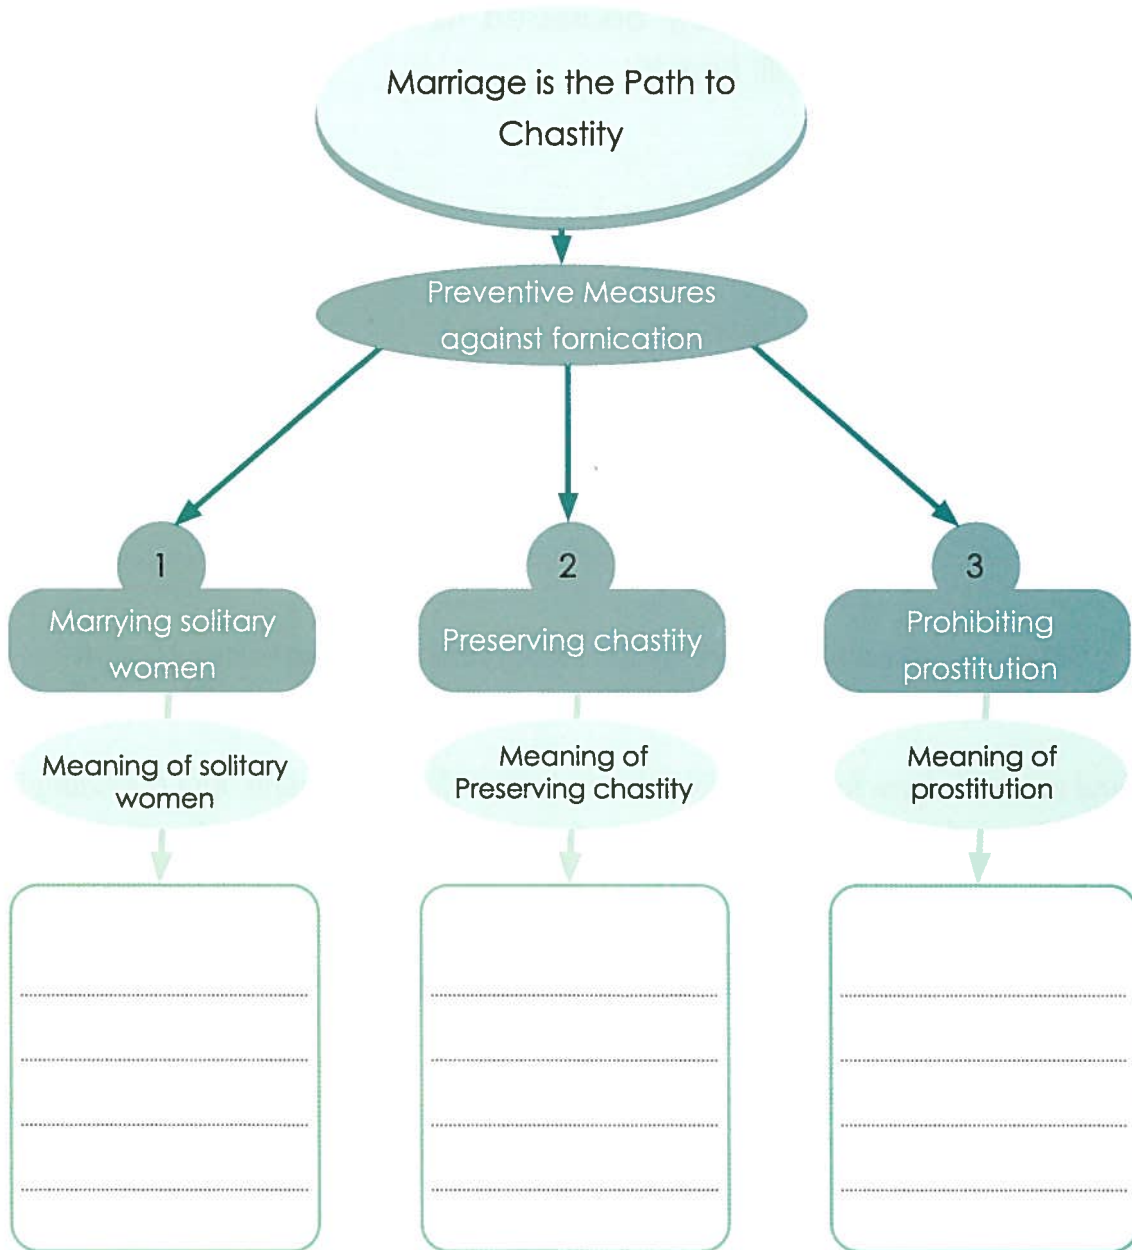

“And verily We have sent down for you revelations that make plain, and the example of those who passed away before you An admonition unto those who ward off (evil).”

- Second, explain the significance of «(مِنْكُمْ)» (Minkum) "...such of you..." in the words of Allah (تعالى):

﴿وَأَنْكِحُوا الْأَيْمَىٰ مِنْكُمْ﴾

Wa `Ankihū Al-'Ayāmá Minkum

“And marry such of you as are solitary...”

- Third, the verses point out that the innateness of woman inclines her towards being a wife and a pure, chaste mother. Identify this in the holy verses.

.....

- Fourth, in verse (32) identify two preventive measures that deter engaging in fornication.

- Fifth, find evidence in the holy verses of the fact that coercion is a crime.

.....

- Sixth, explain the following words:

SN	Word	Meaning
1	وَأَنْكِحُوا (Wa 'Ankiḥū) " And marry"
2	فَتَيَاتِكُمْ (Fatayātikum) "your slave girls"
3	يَبْتَغُونَ الْكِتَابَ (Yabtagḥūna Al-Kitāba) "as seek a writing"
4	مُبَيِّنَاتٍ (Mubayyinātin) "make plain"

Creative Thinking in Islam

We read and explore

- explain the concept of Creativethinking.
- infer the effect of Islam on creativity.
- explain factors that assist creativity.
- find evidence of the creative thinking of Muslims.
- identify the position of the UAE towards creativity.
- appreciate creative ideas in various fields.

I take the initiative to learn

The development and progress of any nation depend on the innovative abilities and efforts of its people. These abilities and efforts are a gift from Allah (تَعَالَى) to man to examine the way man uses them. Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

﴿الَّذِي خَلَقَ الْمَوْتَ وَالْحَيَاةَ لِيَبْلُوَكُمْ أَيُّكُمْ أَحْسَنُ عَمَلًا...﴾
(سورة الملك: 2)

*Al-Ladhī Khalaqa Al-Mawta Wa Al-Ĥayāata Liyabluwakum 'Ayyukum 'Aĥsanu
'Amalāan*

“Who has created life and death that He may try you, which of you is best in conduct...” (Sūrat Al-Mulk: 2).

Investing these abilities and efforts is a Sharia obligation and a prophetic methodology. The Messenger (ﷺ) said, “Be keen with what is beneficial to you, and seek help from Allah - do not be reckless.” (Narrated by Mulsim). This hadith renews hopes and provides one with stamina, as it were. It also motivates one to work and innovate once society or individuals meet the ever changing challenges of life. Islam wants Muslims to get rid of failure through searching for new methods, developing one's tools and methods, inventing new ways of overcoming obstacles and difficulties to achieve progress and prosperity of the highest degree.

Illumination

The most important skills of innovative thinking are:

eloquence, originality, flexibility, giving details, focusing and sensitivity towards problems.

I reflect and explain:

One of the 99 names of Allah (‘asmā’u llāhi lḥusnā- الحسنی الله أسماء) is the ‘originator’ (البدیع al-badī‘u). Allah (تعالی) says:

Badī`u As-Samāwāti

“The Originator of the heavens and the earth...” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 117).

Explain the meaning of this name using an e-dictionary.

I express :

the way I conceive of innovation.

I use my skills to learn

The concept of creative thinking

Allah ((تعالى)) says:

﴿وَجَعَلْنَا فِيهَا جَنَّاتٍ مِّنْ نَّخِيلٍ وَأَعْنَابٍ وَفَجْرْنَا فِيهَا مِنَ الْعُيُونِ ﴿٣٤﴾
لِيَأْكُلُوا مِنْ ثَمَرِهِ وَمَا عَمِلَتْهُ أَيْدِيهِمْ أَفَلَا يَشْكُرُونَ ﴿٣٥﴾﴾ (سورة يس)

*Wa Ja`alnā Fīhā Jannātin Min Nakhīlin Wa 'A`nābin Wa Fajjarnā Fīhā Mina Al-
'Uyūni*

Liya'kulū Min Thamarihi Wa Mā `Amilat/hu 'Aydīhim 'Afalā Yashkurūna

34. And We have placed therein gardens of date-palms and grapes, and We have caused springs of water to gush forth therein.

35. That they may eat of the fruit thereof, and their hands made it not. Will they not, then, give thanks?(Sūrat Yā -Sīn)

Creative thinking is a productive process; it is the kind of thinking which produces the unusual. When creative thinking is contained within the framework of ethics and human values, it becomes increasingly important and finds appreciation everywhere.

I draw a comparison:

between innovation and development.

Innovation
Development

Islam urges Muslims to innovate

If one closely examines the Chapters of the Holy Qur'an, one will find many verses inviting people to study carefully, reflect and take lessons from the creations of Allah (تعالى) in order to deepen belief in Allah (تعالى) and realize the happiness of man in worldly life materially and morally because worldly life is the foundation of the happiness of man in the Afterlife. The Holy Qur'an relates to us the story of Dhul-Qarnayn in Surat Al Kahf (سورة الكهف) when the people asked him to build a barrier to protect them from the mischief and corrupt practices of the Gog and Magog people. He built them an unfamiliar barrier and Allah (عز وجل) blocked the passage of the Gog and Magog to these people until the Day of Resurrection.

I reflect and discover:

aspects of innovation in the story of Dhul-Qarnayn according to the table below.

Normative, customary act	Evidence	Unfamiliar act (innovation)	Evidence
The barrier	He demonstrated the act to them, step by step.

I make sure of the correctness of my answer by revising verses 93-97 of Surat Al Kahf (سورة الكهف).

The same is true of the story of Moses and the good man (عليهما السلام). The good man resorts to an unfamiliar solution to save the ship, its crew and the passengers from hazards. There is also the story of Allah's prophet Yusuf (عليه السلام) who found a creative solution to protect grains against corruption during storage. The solution consisted in storing grains without removing them from ears and to take only the required amount of ears and thus he saved the country and its people during the seven years of famine and drought, got out of prison and was put in charge of all storehouses in the land because of his innovation, which was a favor from Allah (تعالى).

Many verses of the Holy Qur'an and the Prophet's hadiths urge us to innovate as regards all aspects of benevolence and invite us to realize a pleasant, happy life to all people. Allah's prophet Yusuf, عليه السلام, saved all people without taking into consideration their real characters. Allah (تعالى) says:

يُؤْتِي الْحِكْمَةَ مَنْ يَشَاءُ وَمَنْ يُؤْتَ الْحِكْمَةَ فَقَدْ أُوتِيَ خَيْرًا كَثِيرًا
وَمَا يَذَّكَّرُ إِلَّا أُولُو الْأَلْبَابِ ﴿٣١﴾

(سورة البقرة: 269)

Yu'utī Al-Ĥikmata Man Yashā'u Wa Man Yu'uta Al-Ĥikmata Faqad 'Ūtiya Khayrāan Kathīrāan Wa Mā Yadhdkkaru 'Illā 'Ūlū Al-'Albābi

“He gives wisdom unto whom He will, and he unto whom wisdom is given, he truly has received abundant good but none remember except men of understanding.” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 269).

The real value of wisdom and knowledge consists in investing them in serving individuals, society and all mankind. This is contextually conveyed through the verses of the Holy Qur'an and the real value of wisdom and knowledge is embodied in the words of Allah (تعالى):

Wa Mā 'Arsalnāka 'Illā Raḥmatan Lil`alamīna

“We sent you not, but as a Mercy for all creatures” (Sūrat Al-'Anbyā': 107).

I investigate:

the benefits of innovation and creativity.

I infer:

aspects of innovation in the following Sharia texts.

Factors assisting innovation:

1. The family is an incubator of innovation: In an authentic Hadith, the Messenger (ﷺ) said:

“Every one of you is a shepherd and is responsible for his flock . A man is the guardian of his family and he is responsible for them. A woman is the guardian of her husband’s home and his children and she is responsible for them .” (Narrated by Muslim).

2. Studying and searching for knowledge: Abu Huraira (رضي الله عنه) reported: The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said, “Whoever travels a path in search of knowledge, Allah will make easy for him a path to Paradise” (Narrated by at-Tirmithi).

3. Sincerity and perfection: Aisha (رضي الله عنها) said: Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said:

“Allah (تعالى) loves any of you who has done a deed to perfect it” (Narrated by Al-Bayhaqi).

Mention :

some other factors assisting innovation.

The methodology of innovation in Islam:

1. Divine Innovation:

The innovation of the Creator is clear in all the creation of Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ); Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) has created things after no preexisting ideal. The innovation of Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ) is clear in the perfection of absolute creation, in the system of the lives of creatures, in their existence, as well as their beauty and perfection, in the ir harmony in spite of diversity and multiplicity. Instances of this are uncountable. Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ) has adorned the skies with stars and brought forth from earth beauties which enrapture the soul. Also the perfection between man, beast, plants and inanimate things is evidence of the innovation of the Creator (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى); although He (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ) is above all this. Yet all these send signals to man to try to the best of his ability to be innovative and achieve the construction of the earth (عمارة الأرض), which is the purpose he has been created for. The source of creativity is 'Allah' and, therefore, it is imperative to think of, and study His creations in order to understand the indications of the theory of creativity, coexist with the changes and developments of time and bring about unique creativity.

I draw a comparison:

between divine creativity and human creativity in cooperation with my group.

Divine creativity	Human creativity
Without a preexisting ideal
.....	Limited in spite of its apparent multiplicity.

2. Creativity in the Holy Qur'an

The Qur'an motivates creativity; in every verse there is an invitation to examine our surrounding carefully and reflect on it. Therefore, Allah (تعالى) says of His creativity of the universe:

Wa Yatafakkarūna Fī Khalqī As-Samāwāti Wa Al-'Arđi Rabbanā Mā Khalaqta Hādhā Bāṭilāan Subhānaka

“...and consider the creation of the heavens and the earth, (and say): Our Lord! You created not this in vain...” (Sūrat 'Āli 'Imrān: 191).

Allah (تعالى) says:

*Wa Fī Al-'Arđi 'Āyātun Lilmūqinīna
Wa Fī 'Anfusikum 'Afalā Tubshirūna*

20. On the earth are signs for those of assured Faith,
21. As also in yourselves : Will you not then see? (Sūrat Adh-Dhāriyāt)

Creativity also manifested itself in legislations and rulings such as Sharia rulings in zakat, inheritance, honoring women, equality; all these were unfamiliar when these rulings were revealed.

3. Creativity in the Prophet's Sunnah

The Prophet (ﷺ) used to motivate the spirit of motivation in man and seek to develop the talent of creativity in the believers by encouraging innovative ideas and urging Muslims to adopt them. In a hadith the Prophet(ﷺ) said:

“Whosoever introduces a good practice in Islam, there is for him its reward and the reward of those who act upon it after him without anything being diminished from their rewards” (Narrated by Muslim).

I identify:

- the guiding lines of the Prophet (ﷺ) as regards innovative education in the following hadiths:

Abu Huraira (رضي الله عنه) reported: The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said, “Allah loves any of you who has done a deed to perfect it” (Narrated by Al-Bayhaqi).

- The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) accepted to release the prisoners of war provided that each prisoner of war teaches reading and writing to ten Muslim children in Madinah (Bin Hisham).

- The Prophet (ﷺ) was asked of the most virtuous earning and he said:

“It is an honest sale or a man’s work with his hands” (Narrated by Al-Bayhaqi).

4. Creativity of Muslim scholars

Muslim scholars made innovative contributions to various fields of life taking for a point of departure their faith and understanding of the purposes (maqasid) of Sharia, which is distinguished by originality. They conducted researches, worked diligently and contributed scientific discoveries to mankind. Bin al-Nafis was the first physician to describe the pulmonary circulation of the blood. On the other hand, Bin al-Haytham innovatively excelled in Optics, Chemistry, Mathematics and Construction Engineering. Other Muslims scholars contributed a great deal to scientific knowledge and there are around one thousand and one inventions accredited to Muslim scholars whose innovations illuminated the path of sciences and knowledge in the whole world.

I mention :

the names of some Muslim scholars and the sciences they innovatively excelled in.

The UAE and innovation

Innovation requires a sustaining environment which encourages creativity, appreciates innovators and gives patronage to their innovations. The UAE under its wise leadership has created this environment and prepared the suitable atmosphere to release energies and discover talents. Driven by its firm belief and futuristic views, it has enacted laws, founded institutions and allocated funds for local and international awards.

Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities on the basis of their Purposes

We read and explore

- explain the concept of Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities
- infer the importance of Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities
- mention some models of Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities
- apply Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities on different matters
- make sure of benefiting from Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities in different matters in my life.

I take the initiative to learn

When the Prophet (ﷺ) sent Mu'adh bin Jabal (رضي الله عنه) to the people of Yemen he said to him: "Verily, you are coming to a people among the people of the Book, so call them to testify there is no God but Allah and I am the Messenger of Allah. If they accept that, then teach them that Allah has obligated five prayers in each day and night. If they accept that, then teach them that Allah has obligated charity to be taken from the rich and given to the poor. If they accept that, beware not to take from the best of their wealth" (Narrated by Al-Bukhari).

I propose:

the term that can be applied to prioritize the orders mentioned in the hadith.

I use my skills to learn

The concept and emergence of Fiqh of Priorities

Fiqh of Priorities means giving some actions precedence over others based on considerable evidence. The evidence on which priority is based may be a Qur'anic and Sharia text or mental deduction based on qiyas (deductive analogy) and understanding of the purposes and goals of Sharia.

The importance of studying Fiqh of Priorities

The study of understanding (Fiqh) arranging priorities has great benefits to individuals and society alike; these include:

1. Preserving Sharia purposes: This is achieved by observing necessities in the first place; necessities are indispensable to fulfilling people's interests in the realms of religion and day-to-day life. This is followed by satisfying needs through the agency of providing means of living, facilitating things and combating difficulties by offering accommodation and means of transport. Moreover, some improvements are necessary in this regard such as those intended to achieve welfare and a measure of luxury in worldly life such as adornment, travel, tourism, etc. An instance of fallacy in prioritizing matters is to give improvements precedence over needs, or to give needs precedence over necessities in different spheres of life.
2. Saving time and effort and realizing competence in achievement: Knowledge of Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities equips us with the ability to identify objectives through well-conceived plans, determine the order of precedence and allocate the necessary time for each objective. Such planning and preparation will not allow giving play and entertainment priority over visiting relatives and studying, for instance.

3. Prioritizing deeds on the basis of importance: values, rulings and deeds vary in the view of Sharia; they are not all in the same rank. This is so because commands involve religious duties (farā'id- فرائض) and voluntary practices (nawafil- نوافل); whereas prohibitions include major sins (al kaba'ir- الكبائر) and minor sins (al sagha'ir- الصغائر) and, therefore, important matters must not take precedence over more important matters. In view of this, the Companions addressed numerous questions to the Prophet (ﷺ) on the best and most lovable deeds to Allah (تعالى). This concern on the part of the Companions derives from a primary fact- a Muslim is required to attain to the best in all his deeds whether those performed in worldly life or those intended to prepare him for the Afterlife.
4. Realizing progress and prosperity: If every individual in society identifies his priorities, delivered every job in a timely manner and with the necessary effort, this will unify the energies and efforts of society and, consequently, achieve the best results and realize the rise and development of the nation.

I write down and arrange a list of the activities and tasks which I will do during the day and over a week and then arrange them in terms of importance.

Examples of Fiqh of Priorities

1. Giving religious duties (farā'id- فرائض) precedence over voluntary practices (nawafil- نوافل):

The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said: "Allah has said, Whoever harbors animosity towards a friend (wali) of Mine, I declare war upon him. My servant does not draw near to Me with anything more beloved to Me than the religious duties that I have imposed upon him; and My servant continues to draw near to Me with supererogatory works until I love him" (Narrated by Al-Bukhari).

The best deeds are religious duties imposed by Allah (تَعَالَى) on his servants; these are followed in rank by commendable acts (sunan mustahaba- سنن مستحبة). Some people commit the mistake of being keen on performing commendable acts (sunan mustahaba) and voluntary practices (nawafil) and fall short of performing religious duties (farā'id). An instance of this is one who is keen on praying all night and is not keen on getting up early in the morning to offer the dawn prayer at its time.

I express a view and give a reason:

- Someone spends money on going on voluntary Haj and Umrah; but does not pay zakat.
- Someone is exhausted by fasting voluntarily during executing his work in a public position and as a result delays transactions indispensable to people's interest.

2. Giving public interest precedence over private interest:

Islam founded its legislations on ensuring public interests whose benefit goes to society and private interests whose benefit goes to the individual. However, when a conflict arises between the two, public interest is given precedence over private interest provided that a balance and moderation is achieved.

In the year of Ramada Famine (عام الرمادة) when Muslims were hungry and needy, the caravan of Uthman (رضي الله عنه) arrived from Syria with one thousand camels carrying dates, oil and raisin. The merchants in Madinah came to him and said, "You sell to us your merchandise and we give you for every Dirham two". Uthman bin Affan (رضي الله عنه) said, "I have sold it for more than this". The merchants said, "We will increase the price; we will give you for every Dirham five". Uthman (رضي الله عنه) said, "Someone offered me for every Dirham ten". They said to him, "Who increased the price and there are no merchants in Madinah except us?" Uthman (رضي الله عنه) said to them, "I have sold my merchandise to Allah and His Messenger; it is for the poor Muslims".

Had this happened to an ordinary merchant, he would have found a rare opportunity to gain huge amounts of money at the expense of rumbling stomachs and the worries of needy people. However, our master Uthman (رضي الله عنه) gave public interest priority over his personal interest. Abu Bakr (رضي الله عنه) did the same thing when he donated all his wealth to prepare and equip the army of hardship (جيش العسرة - jaysh al-'usra) for Tabuk campaign.

I apply Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities:

- The state wanted to construct extensions to a hospital; but this conflicted with a privately owned piece of land adjacent to the hospital. Which of the two interests would you give priority? Explain why?

3. Giving easiness and facilitation precedence over strenuousness and difficulty:

In its totality Sharia is built on facilitation and removal of hardship.

Allah (تعالى) says:

Yurīdu Allāhu Bikumu Al-Yusra Wa Lā Yurīdu Bikumu Al-`Usra

“...Allah desires for you ease; He desires not hardship for you...” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 185)

Also Allah (تعالى) says:

Yurīdu Allāhu 'An Yukhaffifa `Ankum Wa Khuliqa Al-'Insānu Ḍa`īfān

“Allah would make the burden light for you, for man was created weak” (Sūrat An-Nisā': 28).

I deduce

an instance of prioritizing actions from the following Sharia texts.

◆Allah (تعالى) says:

﴿... وَإِنْ كُنْتُمْ جُنُبًا فَأَطْهَرُوا وَإِنْ كُنْتُمْ مَرْضَىٰ أَوْ عَلَىٰ سَفَرٍ أَوْ جَاءَ أَحَدٌ مِّنْكُمْ مِنَ الْغَايِبِ أَوْ لَمَسْتُمُ النِّسَاءَ فَلَمْ تَجِدُوا مَاءً فَتَيَمَّمُوا صَعِيدًا طَيِّبًا...﴾

(سورة المائدة: 6)

Wa 'In Kuntum Junubāan Fa Aṭṭahharū^ع Wa 'In Kuntum Marḍā 'Aw `Alā Safarin 'Aw Jā'a 'Aḥadun Minkum Mina Al-Ghā'iṭi 'Aw Lāmastumu An-Nisā' Falam Tajidū Mā'an Fatayammamū Ṣa`īdān Ṭayyibāan

“...If you are in a state of ceremonial impurity, bathe your whole body. But if you are ill, or on a journey, or one of you comes from the closet, or you have been in contact with women, and you find no water, then take for yourselves clean sand or earth...” (Sūrat Al-Mā'idah: 6)

- Here consideration of illness or hardship is given priority over the obligation of using water in cleaning oneself.

- Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said,

“When you lead people in the prayer, make it short, because there are among them some people who are weak, ill and old. But when you pray on your own, make it as long as you wish” (Narrated by Al-Bukhari and Muslim).

Allah (تعالى) says:

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا كُتِبَ عَلَيْكُمُ الصِّيَامُ كَمَا كُتِبَ عَلَى الَّذِينَ مِن قَبْلِكُمْ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَتَّقُونَ ﴿١٨٣﴾ أَيَّامًا مَّعْدُودَاتٍ فَمَن كَانَ مِنكُم مَّرِيضًا أَوْ عَلَى سَفَرٍ فَعِدَّةٌ مِّنْ أَيَّامٍ أُخَرَ وَعَلَى الَّذِينَ يُطِيقُونَهُ فِدْيَةٌ طَعَامُ مِسْكِينٍ فَمَن تَطَوَّعَ خَيْرًا فَهُوَ خَيْرٌ لَهُ. وَأَن تَصُومُوا خَيْرٌ لَّكُمْ إِن كُنتُمْ تَعْلَمُونَ ﴿١٨٤﴾

(سورة البقرة)

183. Yā 'Ayyuhā Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū Kutiba `Alaykumu Aṣ-Ṣiyāmu Kamā Kutiba `Alā Al-Ladhīna Min Qablikum La `allakum Tattaqūna
184. 'Ayyāmāan Ma `dūdātin Faman Kāna Minkum Marīdāan
'Aw `Alā Safarin Fa `iddatun Min 'Ayyāmin 'Ukhara Wa
'Alā Al-Ladhīna Yuṭīqūnahu Fidyatun Ṭa `āmu
Miskīnin Faman Taṭawwa `a Khayrāan Fahuwa Khayrun Lahu Wa
'An Taṣūmū Khayrun Lakum 'In Kuntum Ta `lamūna

183. O you who believe! Fasting is prescribed for you, even as it was prescribed for those before you, that you may ward off (evil);

184. (Fast) a certain number of days; and (for) him who is sick among you, or on a journey, (the same) number of other days; and for those who can afford it (with hardship) there is a ransom: the feeding of a man in need. But whoso does good of his own accord, it is better for him: and that you fast is better for you if you did but know (Sūrat Al-Baqarah).

4. Giving purposeful planning priority over decisions taken in haste:

This informs of the way Islam induces modernity. Today people live in an age in which everything is built on knowledge where improvisation and randomness are no longer acceptable. Every serious work should have prerequisite studies, planning and employing figures, statistics and feasibility studies before implementation. This is of the very essence of Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities in Islam.

Hudhayfah bin al-Yaman (رضي الله عنهما) reported: "We were in the company of the Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) when he said,

'Count for me those who profess al-Islam' (Narrated by Muslim).

In another narration "Write down the number of those who profess Islam. We wrote them down and the number was one thousand and five hundred" (Musnad 'Awana). Hence the Messenger (ﷺ) was the first one to order an organized statistics of those who had believed in him after his migration to Madinah. The effect of planning in his biography appeared in various forms and situations such as planning al-Hijrah al-Nabawiyah (The Prophet's Migration). Planning is the foundation of any successful action.

5. Prioritizing spending:

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said,

“Spend money on yourself first, if something is left spend it on those whom you have to look after, if after that something is left spend it on your relatives, and so on and so on” (Narrated by Muslim).

The following is an example of prioritizing spending:

Abdullah bin Al Mubarak set out for Haj. He passed a certain region where a bird with them died. He ordered that it be thrown in a heap of garbage. A young girl came out from a home nearby, went to the garbage, took the dead bird, rapped it and hurried back to her home.

Abdullah went to her and asked her about what she did. The girl replied, “My brother and I live here and we have nothing except for our clothing. We have no food except for what is thrown in the heap of garbage. For the past few days even the dead body has become permissible for us”.

Abdullah ordered the supplies of the trip to be taken back to his home and said to his agent, “How much do we have in terms of spending?” He said, “One thousand dinars.” Abdullah said, “Take from those twenty dinars which should be enough for our return journey to Merv (مرو) and give the rest to her for that is better than our Haj this year”. He then returned home.

Abdullah bin Al Mubarak

A scholar and jurist from Merv (مرو). He was born in 128 AH and died at the age of 63.

I form a view:

of my likes and dislikes as regards the following acts:

1	Muhammad sticks to the list of groceries when buying from the Coop.
2	Ahmed spends on the needy and then on his family.
3	Maisa is keen on acquiring the most recent mobile phones as soon as they are on sale and pays from the family's maintenance money.
4	Jasim saves part of his monthly pocket money for the time of need.
5	Saeed borrows beyond his means to spend lavishly on luxuries

How to prioritize:

- When there is a conflict of interests the most important interest is given priority such as giving public interest priority over private interest.
- When faced with choosing between two corrupt practices, we choose the 'lesser of the two evils; as in the case of Allah's prophet Yusuf (عليه السلام) when he chose to go to prison instead of committing adultery:

﴿ قَالَ رَبِّ السِّجْنُ أَحَبُّ إِلَيَّ مِمَّا يَدْعُونَنِي إِلَيْهِ... ﴾

(سورة يوسف: 33)

Qāla Rabbi As-Sijnu 'Aḥabbu 'Ilayya Mimmā Yad `ūnani'Ilayhi

*“ He said: O my Lord! Prison is more dear than that unto which they urge me...
”(Sūrat Yūsuf: 33).*

- When interests conflict with corrupt acts, we take into consideration the outcomes because it is possible to commit minor sins to realize a major interest, or suspend an interest to avoid a corrupt act. This is best illustrated by the decision of doctors to amputate a limb infected with gangrene to save the rest of the body.

I deduce:

An instance of Fiqh (Understanding) of Priorities in the following holy verse:
Allah (تعالى) says:

*'Ammā As-Safīnatu Fakānat Limasākīna Ya `malūna Fī Al-Baḥri
Fa'aradtu 'An 'A `ībahā Wa Kāna Warā'ahum Malikun Ya'khudhu Kulla
Safīnatin Ghaṣbāan (Sūrat Al-Kahf: 79)*

“As for the ship, it belonged to poor people working on the river, and I wished to mar it, for there was a king behind them who is taking every ship by force” (Sūrat Al-Kahf: 79).

Globalization

We read and explore

- explain the concept of globalization.
- identify the fields of globalization.
- infer the positive and negative aspects of globalization.
- identify the position of Islam towards globalization.
- reinforce my national and cultural identity.

I take the initiative to learn

In recent times we have started to hear via visual and print media some new global terms each indicating a particular concept such as 'globalization', 'sustainability' and other terms. The problem with this phenomenon is not the terms themselves, but the concepts connoted by these concepts and the process of comprehending them. This is so for several reasons :

1. these terms emerged and developed in different periods and in diverse regions and environments,
2. these terms came into use as a result of multiple viewpoints and varying perceptions,
3. these terms have been transmitted through different means such as translation leading to divergent significances and misconceptions.

Therefore, it is necessary to continue the process of identifying the concepts conveyed by the terms currently in exchange because they are inextricably bound up with the interests of the nation. Huge efforts have been exerted by specialists in national institutions, especially educational ones, to explain these terms and meticulously identify their significances and semantic dimensions.

I investigate

Other terms currently used in different media channels whose understanding confronts me with a challenge.

I expect

the importance of reviewing the global terms and concepts currently in use.

I use my skills to learn

The emergence of globalization

It is not easy to identify a period for the emergence of globalization. Some thinkers have proposed that the idea of globalization existed in different epochs in ancient civilizations. In its zenith, each civilization imposed its culture, industry and trade on others to ensure realizing its interests.

Globalization as an idea is not new either in the domain of ordinary life or in relations between nations and states. It is as ancient as civilizations and human societies; it manifests itself in commercial exchanges, population movements, diffusion of ideas, forming markets and extending transport grids. The post-World War Two period created a new international atmosphere known as the Cold War, which continued for more than 40 years and ended by the collapse of the Eastern Bloc and the triumph of Western Capitalism. Western Capitalism became the mostwidespread model in the world creating a suitable atmosphere for globalization reinforced by international financial institutions such as the International Monetary Fund and the World Trade Organization. This has been accompanied by huge developments in the communication and information technology and computer technologies. All these factors contributed to the emergence of what is called globalization.

I infer:

The emergence of globalization was linked to some factors, the most important of these are:

1. the political changes which developed in the world.
3. technological development especially in means of communication and transport.

The concept of globalization:

As a result of the development of means of communication and transport, which have connected different regions in the world, isolation shrank and the world became, as it were, one city whose different districts mutually affected one another. Some believe this is a manifestation of 'globalization'. Although there is consensus on the fact that globalization has become a tangible reality, there is a huge difference as to the concept of globalization and its effects. Therefore, there are different political and social definitions of the term. These definitions can be divided into two categories.

First, from the point of view of globalization advocates:

Globalization is an increased connection and cooperation between human societies through exchange of goods, capitals, movement of persons and exchange of information with attendant cultural and behavioral overlaps irrespective of the political and geographical borders between states.

Second, from the point of view of globalization opponents:

Globalization is imposing a particular pattern of civilization in the realms of thought, culture, economy and politics and generalizing it world-wide.

I analyze and assess:

- the intrinsic difference between the two definitions.

- the futuristic view of each definition.

Forms of globalization:

Globalization takes multiple and diverse forms encompassing all aspects of human life including:

1. Economic globalization:

The economic dimension of globalization is predicated on the principle of free international trade whereby goods, services and capitals move between states without obstacles or barriers. This is expected to raise the standard of living in states across the world through provision of goods and the ease of obtaining them after removing restrictions and barriers from their way.

2. Cultural globalization:

This means transferring ideas, customs and values between societies through the Internet, social media and international travel to reinforce social relations. This would enable all to participate in spreading different cultures across national and regional borders. This may help in forming participatory principles and knowledge leading to increased ties between different cultures and nations.

I discuss:

Do you think that transferring goods and commodities can occur in conformance to equal opportunities to all in the current circumstances?

I investigate

the most important means of diffusing culture in the present time:

I identify

the first to benefit from economic globalization.

Positive and negative aspects of globalization

First, positive aspects:

- Encouraging economic competition will lead to improved production in the fields of industry, agriculture and services and to making life healthy and convenient.
- There are common humanitarian problems which cannot be solved except through the unified efforts of all the countries in the world within a unified strategy to control them; these problems comprise the spread of diseases, environmental pollution and challenges relating to climate.
- Globalization promotes some human values like tolerance, cooperation and coexistence.
- Globalization renders science, knowledge, culture, arts and literature within the reach of all.

I mention

other positive aspects:

I analyze and justify

Do you think that economic competition will be balanced among the countries of the world under globalization?

I discuss and find evidence:

Have the values of tolerance, cooperation and coexistence in society preexisted globalization?

Second, negative aspects:

- dissolving national and personal identity and reforming it in the framework of a global personality.
- suspending national interests especially when they conflict with the interests of globalization.
- controlling domestic markets and transforming them into small markets subordinate to globalization by global institutions of powerful influence
- imposing hegemony on the decisions and values of weak states by powers more advanced, more powerful and more influential and exercising forms of repression and humiliation on these weak states until they succumb and respond to the demands of globalization.

- aggravation of social maladies such as crime, drug trafficking and terrorism.
- widening the economic gap between rich and poor countries; this might aggravate social and class differences, contribute to degrading the situation of human development and predispose states to internal disputes and armed conflicts.
- exploitation resulting from the difference in the value of resources and the value of goods manufactured of these resources and leading to aggravating the problems of resource-rich countries to the benefits of manufacturing countries.

I mention:

other negative aspects of globalization:

.....

I propose

practical means and methods to meet the negative aspects of globalization:

- enhancing and fortifying the national identity
- effecting an educational renaissance to keep abreast with the developments of globalism

Islam and globalization:

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa Law Shā'a Rabbuka Laja `ala An-Nāsa 'Ummatan Wāhidatan Wa Lā Yazālūna Mukhtalifīna (Sūrat Hūd: 118)

“And if your Lord had willed, He verily would have made mankind one nation, yet they cease not differing,” (Sūrat Hūd: 118).

Difference between people in customs, tradition and ideas is something natural. This diversity has been a source of enriching human experience in knowledge and sciences through the ages. It is also the reason for establishing cooperation between people to exchange benefits and realize interests by accord and consent. Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Yā 'Ayyuhā An-Nāsu 'Innā Khalaqnākum Min Dhakarīn Wa 'Unthā Wa Ja `alnākum Shu `ūbāan Wa Qabā'ila Lita `ārafū 'Inna 'Akramakum `Inda Allāhi 'Atqākum 'Inna Allāha `Alīmun Khabīrun

“O mankind! Lo! We have created you male and female, and have made you nations and tribes that you may know one another. Lo! The noblest of you, in the sight of Allah, is the best in conduct. Lo! Allah is All-Knower, All-Aware” (Sūrat Al-Ĥujurāt: 13).

The Prophet (ﷺ) dealt with non-Muslims and cooperated with them. The caravans of Muslims used to trade outside the borders of Madinah, Makkah and the Arabian Peninsula to satisfy the needs of society. Trade exchange was realized in a perfect manner with societies of different customs, tradition and faiths. Muslims merchants used to deal with people on the basis of their ethics.

Allah (عزَّ وجلَّ) revealed Islamic religion to all mankind; Islam is a universal religion and not specific to any people or nation to the exclusion of others. Allah (تعالى) says:

﴿وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ إِلَّا رَحْمَةً لِّلْعَالَمِينَ﴾

(سورة الأنبياء: 107)

Wa Mā 'Arsalnāka 'Illā Raḥmatan Lil`ālamīna

“We sent you not save as a mercy for the peoples” (Sūrat Al-'Anbyā': 107).

The different aspects of this 'mercy' are tolerance, preserving rights, realizing the happiness of man and prohibiting exploitation, repression and aggression. Allah (تعالى) says:

﴿... وَلَا تَقْتَدُوا إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يُحِبُّ الْمُعْتَدِينَ﴾

Wa Lā Ta` tadū 'Inna Allāha Lā Yuḥibbu Al-Mu` tadīna (Sūrat Al-Mā'idah: 87)

“...and transgress not. Lo! Allah loves not transgressors” (Sūrat Al-Mā'idah: 87).

Sound instinct is inclined towards positive aspects and does not condone negative qualities; contrary to this, it endeavors to rid itself of these negative qualities. Globalization like other theories has, as mentioned above, positive and negative aspects such as obliterating national identity, changing man's sense of belonging, commitment to the world instead of national commitment, extinction of some economies and others.

Islamic faith commanded respect to the creeds of other members of society who are non-Muslims; it does not coerce anyone into embracing Islam. Allah (تعالى) says:

Lā 'Ikrahā Fī Ad-Dīni

“There is no compulsion in religion...” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 256).

Islamic faith has secured to others the freedom of practicing their religious duties. Amir al-Mu'minin (Leader of the Faithful) Omar bin Al Khattab granted the people of Jerusalem universal security without changing their customs, beliefs or their sense of belonging. He went in person to see them in response to their request and practically applied his pledge when he prayed outside the Church of Resurrection as a measure against future claims with respect to the right of using the church.

I mention

the effects of globalization on the economy of poor countries:

Illuminations

Some thinkers believe that there are many obstacles in the way of globalization including:

- If globalization seeks to erase barriers between people, it has failed to do so as is evidenced by the division of the world into a rich, advanced north and a poor, backward south.
- Some countries still strongly oppose this system because it conflicts with their political and economic orientations such as China and North Korea.
- The contradictory interests of major powers constitute a primary obstacle to globalization.
- The diversity of cultures is opposed to globalization and its pursuit of social and civilizational change among the peoples of the world.

I infer the hazards of obliterating national identity.

.....

- Third, give three positive aspects of globalization:

3.

- Fourth, show the manifestations of the universality of Islam as it figures in the following:

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Yā 'Ayyuhā An-Nāsu Attaqū Rabbakumu Al-

LadhīKhalaqakum Min Nafsin Wāhidatin Wa Khalaqa Minhā Zawjahā Wa Baththa Minhumā Rijālāan Kathīrāan Wa Nisā'an Wa Attaqū Allaha Al-Ladhī Tasā'alūna Bihi WaAl-'Arhāma 'Inna Allāha Kāna `Alaykum Raqībāan

“O mankind! Be careful of your duty to your Lord Who created you from a single soul and from it created its mate and from them twain has spread abroad a multitude of men and women. Be careful of your duty toward Allah in Whom you claim (your rights) of one another, and toward the wombs (that bare you). Lo! Allah has been a Watcher over you”(Sūrat An-Nisā': 1).

- Umm Salama (رضي الله عنها) said, "Abu Bakr (رضي الله عنه) went on a trade caravan to Busra al-Sham one year before the death of the Prophet (ﷺ) accompanied by An-Nu'man bin Amru".

- Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) sent emissaries carrying letters of invitation to Islam and presents to a number of Kings and Caesars; these letters included
 1. a message to the Negus, the King of Abyssinia, which was carried by Amr bin Umayyah al-Damri,
 2. a message to Al-Muqawqis, the Ruler of Egypt, which was carried by Hatib bin Abi Balta'ah,
 3. a message to Al Munzir bin Sawa, the King of Bahrain, which was carried by Al-Ala'a Al-Hadrami,
 4. a message to, Caesar, the Emperor of the Romans, which was carried by Dihya bin Khalifa al-Kalbi.

- The age of al-Mamun was the most prosperous ages of translation as regards Muslims. al-Mamun himself was interested in scientific knowledge; he held debates and scientific seminars. He was the first ruler to accord attention to translating books on wisdom, send presents to the kings of Europe to make them send him the books of Plato, Aristotle and others and then ordered translating these books into Arabic. Gerard of Cremona translated The Canon of Medicine from Arabic into Latin in 1279; this book remained a major reference in medical sciences in Europe until the late 17th century.

- Decorated pages from Bin Sina's book translated into Latin under the title Canon medicinae circa 1473.

- A manuscript from Bayt al-Hikma (The House of Wisdom) translated from Syriac into Arabic

Allah is the Light of the heavens and the earth

Sūrat An-Nūr: (35-45)

We read and explore

- read the holy verses from memory observing the rules of recitation.
- explain the vocabulary of the holy verses.
- explain the rank of mosques in Islam.
- explain the evidence of the greatness of Allah as exhibited in his creations.
- explain the significance of the holy verses.
- adhere to the values incorporated in the holy verses.

I take the initiative to learn

the significance of the words of Allah (تعالى):

﴿ اللَّهُ نُورُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ... ﴾

Al-Lahu Nūru As-Samāwāti Wa Al-'Arđi

“Allah is the Light of the heavens and the earth...”

And the words of Allah (تعالى):

﴿ وَلَقَدْ أَنْزَلْنَا إِلَيْكُمْ آيَاتٍ مُبَيِّنَاتٍ وَمَثَلًا مِّنَ الَّذِينَ خَلَوْا مِن قَبْلِكُمْ وَمَوْعِظَةً

35. Allah is the Light of the heavens and the earth. The similitude of His light is as a niche wherein is a lamp. The lamp is in a glass. The glass is as it were a shining star. (This lamp is) kindled from a blessed tree, an olive neither of the East nor of the West, whose oil would almost glow forth (of itself) though no fire touched it. Light upon light, Allah guides unto His light whom He will. And Allah sets for mankind similitudes, for Allah is All-Knower of all things.

40. Or as darkness on a vast, abysmal sea. There covers him a wave, above which is a wave, above which is a cloud. Layer upon layer of darkness. When he holds out his hand he scarce can see it. And he for whom Allah has not appointed light, for him there is no light.

41. Have you not seen that Allah, He it is Whom all who are in the heavens and the earth praise; and the birds in their flight? Each one knows its own prayer and praise (through Allah's guidance); and Allah is All-Aware of what they do.

42. And unto Allah belongs the sovereignty of the heavens and the earth, and unto Allah is the journeying.

43. Have you not seen how Allah wafts the clouds, then gathers them, then makes them layers, and you seest the rain come forth from between them; He sends down hail from the mountains (of clouds) in the heavens, and smites therewith whom He will, and averts it from whom He will. The flashing of His lightning all but snatches away the sight.

44. Allah causes the revolution of the day and the night. Lo! herein is indeed a lesson for those who see.

45. Allah has created every animal of water. Of them is (a kind) that goes upon its belly and (a kind) that goes upon two legs and (a kind) that goes upon four. Allah creates what He will. Lo! Allah is ever Able to do all things.

I understand the significance of the verses

Faith is a divine light:

In these verses, Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ) tells that He is the light of the heavens and the earth, i.e. He lights them with material and moral light. The whole universe takes its light from Him and believers were guided to Him by His light. His Book is light; His rulings are light. Likewise, faith and knowledge are light which Allah (تَعَالَى) casts onto the hearts of His messengers and his faithful servants. Allah is the Creator of every material or moral light; He gives this light as a gift or guide people to. Allah (تَعَالَى) then likens the light of faith in the heart of a believer to a shining, glittering glass lamp, which is kindled by the best kind of pure olive oil and placed in an aperture in a wall and light emits from it to light all around it. Allah (تَعَالَى) guides to this light those whom he wills of his worshippers, i.e. those who see things by their eyes and examine things with their minds.

I explain

the significance of the words of Allah (تَعَالَى):

... يَهْدِي اللَّهُ لِنُورِهِ مَن يَشَاءُ ...

Yahdī Al-Lahu Linūrihi Man Yashā'u

“...Allah guides unto His light whom He will ...”

I show

how the light of faith in the heart reflects on the feelings and behavior of man when dealing with each of the following:

The parents
Neighbors
The guardian

I conduct a search and explain:

the significance of the Qur'anic text below as it is given in 'Taysir al-latif al-mannan fi khulasat tafsir al-Qur'an' (e-version).

Qur'anic text	Allah, تَعَالَى , says: ﴿... زَيْتُونَةٍ لَّا شَرْقِيَّةٍ وَلَا غَرْبِيَّةٍ ...﴾ Zaytūniatin Lā Sharqīyatin Wa LāGharbīyatin “... an olive neither of the East nor of the West ...”

Islamic Education - Grade 12 Term 2

Reflect and infer:

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa Yaḍribu Allāhu Al-'Amthāla Lilnāsi

“...And Allah sets for mankind similitudes ...”

The wisdom of setting examples in the Book of Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ):

Mosques are Allah's houses:

The holy verses then speak of the houses of Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى), on earth. These houses are the mosques, the most beloved places to Allah (تَعَالَى). Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ) commanded building mosques, reverencing them and holding them in very high esteem to turn them into symbols of guidance, centers radiating faith, peace and knowledge where Allah is worshipped through acknowledging His oneness, expressing thanks to Him (tasbīḥ) and reciting His verses by day and night. The verses then tell us of the frequenters of these mosques; the true believers who worship Allah diligently and sincerely without being distracted by worldly life with its adornments and luxuries from worshipping their Lord. They are also not distracted by trade transactions from obeying their Lord; worldly concerns do not preoccupy them to the extent of not praying in time and paying zakat to those who deserve it because they fear a momentous day whose terror makes hearts pound and eyes disappear in their sockets. They work to obtain the contentment of their Lord and wish that Allah will reward their deeds in worldly life with tranquility, security, good reputation and mutual love between them and other people until after they leave this world and then favor them with things never seen, heard of or entertained in the imagination of men.

I reflect and explain:

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

فِي بُيُوتٍ أُذِنَ لِلَّهِ أَنْ تَرْفَعَ وَيَذْكُرَ فِيهَا أَسْمُهُ يُسَبِّحُ لَهُ فِيهَا بِالْغُدُوِّ وَالْآصَالِ ﴿٣٦﴾

Fī Buyūtin 'Adhina Allāhu 'An Turfa`a Wa Yudhkara Fīhā Asmuhu Yusabbiḥu Lahu Fīhā Bil-Ghudūwi Wa Al-'Āṣāli

“...in houses which Allah has allowed to be exalted and that His name shall be remembered therein... at morn and evening...”

- The duty of a believer towards the houses of Allah (تَعَالَى):

Building mosques and looking after them in the UAE:

Materially:

Morally:

I expect and answer:

You went to the mosque in your neighborhood to perform the sunset (magrib- المغرب) prayer in congregation. During the prayer there was a group of boys playing outside the mosque and annoying the worshippers.

The duty of the Imam

Give a reason for the boys acting in this way

Authorities concerned with correcting this conduct

.....

Directives in Sūrat An-Nūr to deal with this situation

I deduce:

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

رِجَالٌ لَا فِئْمِهِمْ بَيْعَةٌ وَلَا بَيْعٌ عَنْ ذِكْرِ اللَّهِ وَإِقَامِ الصَّلَاةِ وَإِيتَاءِ الزَّكَاةِ يَخَافُونَ يَوْمًا تَتَقَلَّبُ
فِيهِ الْقُلُوبُ وَالْأَبْصَارُ ﴿٣٧﴾

Rijālun Lā Tulhīhim Tijāratun Wa Lā Bay`un `An DhikriAllāhi Wa 'Iqāmi Aṣ-Ṣalāati Wa 'Itā'i Az-Zakāati Yakhāfūna Yawmāan Tataqallabu Fīhi Al-Qulūbu Wa Al-'Abṣāru

“Men whom neither merchandise nor sale beguiles from remembrance of Allah and constancy in prayer and paying to the poor their due; who fear a day when hearts and eyeballs will be overturned...”

Deduce from the verse two characteristics Allah (تَعَالَى) has used to describe men of faith:

The conditionnon-believers (Kuffar) and their loss:

Allah (تَعَالَى) gave two examples of those who do not believe in Him: one because of his deeds and the other because of his thought, of stumbling in the darkness and calling people to disbelieve in Allah and deny His blessings. The deeds of disbelievers which they believe to be good deeds in worldly life are in the Afterlife akin to a mirage, which the thirsty sees as water from afar; but when he reaches it finds no water to drink and feels lament and regret. This is the condition of the unbeliever who surmises that his deeds will benefit him. However, when he dies and appears before His Lord, he shall find nothing of his deeds because they have become dust particles blown away by the winds. Then Allah (تَعَالَى) will hold him fully accountable for his deeds and the reckoning of Allah (تَعَالَى) is fast; He reckons with the creations in urgency as He reckons with all people in spite of the enormity of their numbers and deeds. Reckoning with one does not distract Him from reckoning with another. This is a warning against failing to obey one who is empowered with such all-inclusive might and capacities.

Then Allah (عَزَّوَجَلَّ) gave another example of the misguidance of unbelievers and of those who had responded to their call and suspended their mental faculties. The misguidance of unbelievers is likened to darkness over a deep sea with tumultuous waves following one atop the other. Above the sea there are layer upon layer of condensed clouds. The darkness is so essential and primeval that one cannot see one's hand amid this all engulfing darkness- the darkness of the sea, the waves and the clouds. The darkness is condensed to the extent that one does not see the nearest thing to one. This is the lot of one who stumbles in the darkness of disbelief and misguidance; he does not see the light of faith and guidance. Whoever is not granted by Allah (تَعَالَى) a light to go around with in the Day of Judgment will never have light. Allah (تَعَالَى), says of the believers:

*Yawma Tará Al-Mu'uminīna Wa Al-Mu'umināti Yas`á Nūruhum Bayna
'Aydīhim Wa Bi'aymānihim Bushrākumu (Sūrat Al-Ĥadīd: 12)*

“On the day when you (Muhammad) will see the believers, men and women, their light shining forth before them and on their right hands, (and will hear it said unto them): Glad news for you...” (Sūrat Al-Ĥadīd: 12).

I explain

the significance of likening someone who does not believe in Allah one time to the mirage and another time to darkness.

.....

Evidence of the omnipotence and greatness of Allah:

After having described the condition of the believers and non-believers, Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) followed this by giving evidence of his omnipotence and greatness; this evidence comprises:

1. All creatures engage in 'tasbeeh' (تَسْبِيح) repetitive utterances of short sentences in the praise and glorification of Allah) to thank Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى); even birds in the skies engage in tasbeeh and worship their Lord. Each creature engages in tasbeeh and worshipping its Lord in the way Allah has guided the creature to. Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa 'In Min Shay'in 'Illā Yusabbiḥu Biḥamdihi Wa Lakin Lā Tafqahūna Tasbīḥahum

(Sūrat Al-'Isrā': 44)

“...and there is not a thing but hymns his praise; but you understand not their praise ...

...“(Sūrat Al-'Isrā': 44).

2. Allah (تَعَالَى) owns the universe and discharges its affairs; the destiny of creations is in His hands as He calls them to reckoning in and adjudicates between them on the Day of Judgment.
3. Formation of clouds and the fall of rains: Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) explained this universal phenomenon as He with His power moves the clouds wherever He wills, gathers them together after they have dispersed, makes them cumulative and condensed (cumulus clouds), one on top of the other like mountain ranges. Then from these condensed clouds rain and hail fall and come as a blessing to man, plants and animals; but at other times they cause calamities and affliction.
4. The difference between night and day in terms of duration, darkness and light, heat and cold.
5. He created all creatures of water with diverse shapes and movement; some crawl on the belly like snakes and reptiles, some walk on two like birds and others walk on four like cattle.

I explain:

The significance of the words of Allah (تَعَالَى):

Yakhluqu Allāhu Mā Yashā'u 'Inna Allāha `Alá Kulli Shay'in Qadīrun

Allah creates what He will. Lo! Allah is ever able to do all things.

I give examples:

- Rain and wind might be a blessing to man; but they might also be a curse.

Complete the following table by giving examples to prove the above.

	A blessing and bounty	A curse and affliction
Rain
Wind

I conduct a search:

The scientific facts mentioned by the Holy Qur'an 1400 years ago, which experimental science has proven in this age, increases the faith of believers and presents the non-Muslims with evidence of the truthfulness of Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) because it was impossible to perceive them with the means available in that period. The facts mentioned by the above holy verses include:

1. the darkness of seas and oceans,
2. formation of cumulus clouds in the shape of mountains,
3. water is an essential constituent of all animals.

A mountain of clouds

A mountain of stones

- I search for a scientific fact mentioned by the Qur'an and proven by experimental science.

Student Activities

I answer by myself

- First, explain the words of Allah (تَعَالَى):

﴿اللَّهُ نُورُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ...﴾

Al-Lahu Nūru As-Samāwāti Wa Al-'Arđi

“Allah is the Light of the heavens and the earth...”

- Second, the verses dealt with natural phenomena signifying the power of Allah (تَعَالَى) and the marvels of his creation; mention three of them.

- Third, engaging in trading and preserving one's acts of devotion are the cause of abundant earnings. Identify the holy verse which signifies this.

- Fourth, explain the significance of the words of Allah (تَعَالَى):

﴿... وَمَنْ لَمْ يَجْعَلِ اللَّهُ لَهُ نُورًا فَمَا لَهُ مِنْ نُورٍ﴾

Man Lam Yaj`ali Allāhu Lahu Nūrāan Famā Lahu Min Nūrin

“...And he for whom Allah has not appointed light, for him there is no light.”

- Explain, the meaning of the following words:

SN	Word	Meaning
1	لِأُولِي الْأَبْصَارِ (Li'wālī Al-'Abṣāri) those who see
2	بُيُوتٍ (Buyūtin) houses
3	أَذِنَ (Adhina) has allowed
4	بَرَادِينَ (Baradin) hail

Enriching my experience

I write a scientific report on the formation of clouds containing a comparison between the findings of modern science and what is mentioned in the verses of Sūrat An-Nūr and present it to my fellow students.

I assess myself

SN	Aspect of Learning	Degree of achievement
		Average	Good	Excellent
1	I recite the holy verses from memory observing the rules of recitation.
2	I explain the words mentioned in the holy verses.
3	I explain the rank of mosques in Islam.
4	I explain the evidence of the greatness of Allah as exhibited in his creations.
5	I explain the significance of the holy verses.
6	I apply the values incorporated in the holy verses.

Obedience and Compliance is the Path to Faith:

Sūrat An-Nūr 46-57

We read and explore

- recite the holy verses from memory observing the rules of recitation.
- explain the meaning of the vocabulary of the holy verses.
- explain the significance of the holy verses.
- compare the attitude of the hypocrite to that of the believer towards the commands of Allah (تَعَالَى) and those of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ).
- make sure of adhering to the values incorporated in the holy verses.

I take the initiative to learn

'Abdullah binMas'ood, رضي الله عنه, reported that the Prophet (ﷺ) said:

“No one will enter Paradise in whose heart is an atom’s weight of arrogance.” A man said: “What if I like my clothes to look nice and my shoes to look nice?” He said: “Verily Allah is beautiful and loves beauty; rather arrogance means rejecting the truth and looking down on people” (Narrated by Muslim).

I expect:

the reasons that drive some people to refute what is right and refuse to accept it.

I understand the significance of the verses

The condition of hypocrites and the condition of believers:

Allah (تَعَالَى) tells us in these holy verses of His mercy towards His servants. He (تَعَالَى) has revealed the Holy Qur'an in clear verses guiding to the truth, illustrating to people the right path leading to their happiness in worldly life and in the Hereafter. Those who believe in these verses and take to heart the guidance incorporated in them, will be rewarded with what is good in worldly life and in the Hereafter. Those who deny these verses will deprive themselves of blessing. Then Allah (تَعَالَى) mentions a group of people who opposed the revelations and rulings of Allah (تَعَالَى) and were misguided; these were the hypocrites who:

وَيَقُولُونَ ءَامَنَّا بِاللَّهِ وَبِالرَّسُولِ وَأَطَعْنَا ثُمَّ تَوَلَّىٰ فِرْقٌ مِّنْهُمْ مِّنْ بَعْدِ ذَلِكَ وَمَا أُولَٰئِكَ بِالْمُؤْمِنِينَ ﴿٤٧﴾

Wa Yaqūlūna 'Āmannā Billāhi Wa Bir-Rasūli Wa 'Aṭa 'nāThumma Yatawallā Farīqun Minhum Min Ba`di Dhālika Wa Mā 'Ūlā'ika Bil-Mu'uminīna

And they say: We believe in Allah and the messenger, and we obey; then after that a faction of them turn away. Such are not believers.

Allah (تَعَالَى) mentioned some of their characteristics, which include:

- First, they verbally say that they obey Allah and His Messenger; but their deeds negate this.

- Second, they refuse the judgment of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) if he rules against them. However, if right is in their favor, they show submission and obedience to the Messenger to give a ruling in their favor as they know that he is fair to all.
- Third, they do injustice to themselves by being doubtful and denying what is right.
- Fourth, they solemnly swear by Allah to deceive people.

After having mentioned the condition of the hypocrites and some of their characteristics, the holy verses mention the condition of true believers and their attitude towards obeying Allah's Messenger (ﷺ):

The saying of (all true) believers when summoned unto Allah and His Messenger to judge between them is only that they say: We hear and we obey. And such are the successful.

The holy verses mention some of the characteristics of true believers in particular:

- First, submission to, and content with, the command of Allah (تَعَالَى) and His Messenger (ﷺ) in words and deeds.
- Second, commitment to obeying Allah (تَعَالَى) and accepting what is right and, therefore, they deserve rewards and success.

The promise of Allah (تَعَالَى), to believers:

When the Prophet (ﷺ) and his Companions came to Medinah and were given refuge by Ansars, Arabs militarily unified against them. They slept and woke up in arms; they wondered, "Do you think that we will live until we sleep reassured and fear only Allah? Allah (تَعَالَى) revealed these verses which carried good tidings to the believers of realizing the promise of Allah (تَعَالَى) which is always true.

As Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa`da Allahi Lā Yukhlifu Allāhu Wa`dahu (Sūrat Ar-Rūm: 6)

“(It is) the promise of Allah. Never does Allah depart from His promise:” (Sūrat Ar-Rūm: 6)

Allah (تَعَالَى) promised the Prophet (ﷺ) and his Companions (رضي الله عنهم) that security, stability, might and dignity would be realized to them and that security would replace their fear. The Prophet (ﷺ) gave them good tidings centered round the fact that a bright time would dawn on them in which they would be reassured of themselves, religion and wealth in their travels and settlement until wives set out on long journeys fearing only Allah (تَعَالَى).

The holy verses explained the way this promise is going to be realized, which is worshipping Allah (تَعَالَى) truly in the wide, comprehensive sense of the word worshipping and obeying Allah (تَعَالَى) and His messenger (ﷺ) obeying the Messenger (ﷺ) is the cause of the mercy of Allah (تَعَالَى).

Then Allah (تَعَالَى) made it easy on the believers reassuring them that irrespective of the enemies' power and wealth, they would be under the might of Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ) and that He is able to do anything.

I take the initiative to learn

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

وَمِنْ آيَاتِهِ خَلْقَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَأَخْتِلَافِ أَلْسِنَتِكُمْ وَالْوَسَائِكُمْ

إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِّلْعَالَمِينَ ﴿٢٢﴾

(سورة الروم: 22)

Wa Min 'Āyātihi Khalqu As-Samāwāti Wa Al-'Arđi WaAkhtilāfu 'Alsinatikum Wa 'Alwānikum 'Inna Fī Dhālika La'āyātin Lil` alimīna

And among His Signs is the creation of the heavens and the earth, and the variations in your languages and your colours: verily in that are Signs for those who know (Sūrat Ar-Rūm: 22)

The wisdom of Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) dictated that difference is a characteristic of His creations; therefore, we have contradictory dualities such as positive and negative, hot and cold, mountain and plain and plant and animals. Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

الْمُرْتَأْنَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ أَنْزَلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً فَأَخْرَجْنَا بِهِ ثَمَرَاتٍ مُّخْتَلِفًا أَلْوَانُهَا وَمِنَ الْجِبَالِ

جُدُدٍ بَيْضٌ وَحُمْرٌ مُّخْتَلِفٌ أَلْوَانُهَا وَغَرَابِيبُ سُودٌ ﴿٢٧﴾

(سورة فاطر: 27)

'Alam Tarā 'Anna Allāha 'Anzala Mina As-Samā'i Mā'anFa'akhrajnā Bihi Thamarātin Mukhtalifāan 'Alwānuhā Wa Mina Al-Jibāli Judadun Bīḍun Wa Ħumrun Mukhtalifun 'Alwānuhā Wa Gharābību Sūdun

“See you not that Allah sends down rain from the sky? With it We then bring out produce of various colours. And in the mountains are tracts white and red, of various shades of colour, and black intense in hue” (Sūrat Fāṭir: 27).

Reflecting on the universe, one finds it in utmost beauty, harmony and complementariness in spite of the difference in its aspects and phenomena: night does not conflict with day; a valley does not hinder a mountain and land does not encroach on sea. The continuity of this diversity and difference is the secret behind the survival of the universe; the alternative to this diversity and harmony is nihility.

Illuminations

The wisdom behind difference in the world of man

Some scholars maintain that difference between people must lead to dialogue, integration and harmony, not to separateness and clashing. This is so because Allah (تَعَالَى) wanted to examine people by this difference Allah (تَعَالَى) puts the rich to test by the way he spends and gives others and the poor by his patience and thankfulness. Likewise, the scholar is put to test by the way he teaches people and divulging scientific knowledge and ignorant people are required to learn and understand. Also, difference between people in capabilities enables them to use one another in a manner that benefits all- a worker uses his physical abilities, a merchant used his financial abilities and so on in an integral system that propels the wheel of life.

I expect what will happen if:

- the sun becomes a moon?
- the whole earth becomes dry?
- herbivorous animals become carnivorous?

I infer:

from the above:

غَرَابِيبُ سُودٍ (Gharābību Sūdun) 'black intense in hue': i.e. rocks of intense black; in Arabic we more often the epithet 'black' describes intensity and rarely the epithet 'intense' describes blackness.

I use my skills to learn
Universal difference is a divinesunnah (law):

Difference in the world of man has taken several forms including:

- sex and race
- shape and color
- language, culture and creed.

Although this difference is a natural matter and a law of the laws of Allah (تَعَالَى) yet it has frequently been the cause of some conflicts and clashes between people instead of being an integrative factor, forming a pattern of cooperation enriched by diversity.

I imagine and explain:

what can be attendant on:

1. struggle in the case of difference in sex: 'male vs. female'?

2. clash in the case of difference in religion and faith between people

.....

The position of Islam towards difference in doctrines and creeds:

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa Mā 'Aktharu An-Nāsi Wa Law Ḥaraṣta Bimu'uminīna

“Yet no faith will the greater part of mankind have, however ardently you do desire it” (Sūrat Yūsuf: 103).

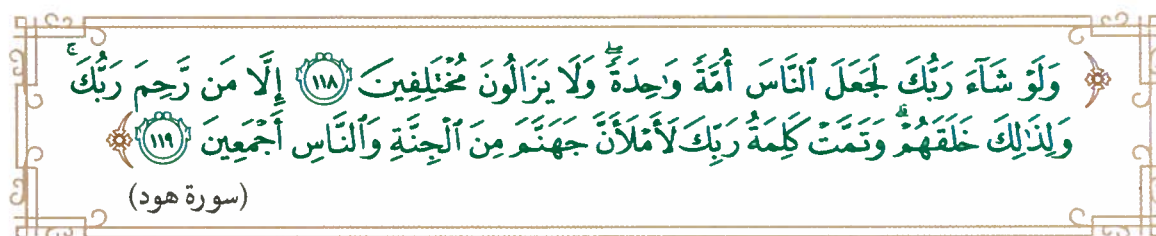

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Lakum Dīnukum Wa Liya Dīni

“To you be your Way, and to me mine” (Sūrat Al-Kāfirūn: 6).

Islam views difference between people as a natural matter because of their varying purposes, mental capacities and intellectual and physical energies. This difference is an aspect of the will which Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) has given to man. It should not be turned in any circumstances whatsoever into hatred and grudge especially that a Muslim knows for a fact that difference, multiplicity and diversity among mankind are as durable as heavens and earth and that they belong to the wisdom of Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ). Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

118. Wa Law Shā'a Rabbuka Laja`ala An-Nāsa 'UmmatanWāhīdatan Wa Lā Yazālūna Mukhtalifīna

119. 'Illā Man Raḥīma Rabbuka Wa Lidhalika Khalaqahum

118. If your Lord had so willed, He could have made mankind one people: but they will not cease to dispute.

119. Except those on whom your Lord has bestowed His Mercy: and for this did He create them..." Sūrat Hūd).

Moreover, the Prophet (ﷺ) lived in Makkah and Madinah and dealt with people who were not all Muslims. When some of them showed animosity towards him, he used to say, “My Lord, forgive my people for they do not know” (Narrated by al-Bayhaqi).

Hence a Muslim does not live in isolation from other societies under any pretext because this contradicts the realism of Islam and its timeless, universal message whose greatest and most venerable qualities consist in leniency and mercy.

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa Mā 'Arsalnāka 'Illā Raḥmatan Lil`ālamīna We sent you not save as a mercy for the peoples

“We sent you not, but as a Mercy for all creatures” (Sūrat Al-'Anbyā': 107).

I differentiate:

between difference and dispute among people.

Difference	A natural and necessary phenomenon thatmust be conducive to	It is caused by difference in mental capacities and
Dispute	This is an objectionable matter and must be avoided because it often leads to	It is caused by self-centered wishes and

Causes of dispute between people of different creeds and religions:

Someone might come up with the question: if the essence of all religions is a call to spread love, good and peaceful coexistence between people, why do conflicts sometimes breakout between the followers of these religions? The cause of these conflicts derives from several matters; the most important of these are:

1. Fantasy and fanaticism:

Difference in viewpoints does not stir conflict; rather fantasies which drive one to insist on one's point of view and exclude others in an attempt to coerce others into accepting one's point of view. In doing so, one does not accept the opinion of another person and leaves no open door for dialogue. This inevitably internalizes in one hate and animosity while the methodology of Allah (تَعَالَى) is:

Lā 'Ikrāha Fī Ad-Dīni

"Let there be no compulsion in religion..." (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 256).

2. Difference in balances and criteria:

This denotes the criteria of judging what is right and what is wrong. These criteria might differ because of different sources of knowledge, or different of methods inference, or different methodology of research and thinking. Someone who employs knowledge, logic and mental capacities in making judgment is definitely very different from someone who resorts in making judgment to superstition and myth. Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Qul Hātū Burhānakum 'In Kuntum Ṣādiqīna

“...Say, "Bring forth your argument, if you are telling the truth!" (Sūrat An-Naml: 64).

In this the essence is argument and evidence.

3. Keeness on private interests at the expense of the interests of others:

The fact that some people are keen on their interests and seek to realize them at any cost drives them to ignore the interests of others and go further to violate the interests of others without any consideration to values, principles and ethics. Thus every dispute turns into conflict and every different person turns into an enemy whereas the methodology of Islam is explicitly pronounced in the words of Allah (تعالى):

Lanā 'A`mālunā Wa Lakum 'A`mālukum Lā Ḥujjata Baynanā Wa Baynakumu Allāhu Yajma`u Baynanā Wa 'Ilayhi Al-Maṣīru

“...for us (is the responsibility for) our deeds, and for you for your deeds. There is no contention between us and you. Allah will bring us together, and to Him is (our) Final Goal” (Sūrat Ash-Shūrā: 15)

4. Blind imitation:

The origin of blind imitation is excessive glorification of individuals and elevating them to the rank of infallibility. A person entrapped in this will refuse to listen to what is right, adopt the views of immoral and ignorant persons and endeavor to oblige others to do the same. Consequently, dispute becomes intense and conflict breaks out. Allah (تعالى) says:

*Wa 'Idhā Qīla Lahum Attabi`ū Mā 'Anzala Allāhu Qālū Bal Nattabi`u Mā 'Alfaynā`
`Alayhi 'Ābā'anā 'Awalaw Kāna 'Ābā'uuhum Lā Ya`qilūna Shay'āan Wa Lā Yahtadūna*

“When it is said to them: "Follow what Allah has revealed:" They say: "Nay! we shall follow the ways of our fathers." What! even though their fathers Were void of wisdom and guidance?” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 170).

The concept of tolerance and its importance to dealing with people of different faith:

Tolerance is flexibility and leniency; it is a kind of benevolence to one's soul with an innate capacity to love those who are benevolent to one. This requires flexibility in dealing with and accepting others, as well as cooperating with them in things that are good to all. The Messenger (ﷺ) said,

“The most loved religion to Allah is Hanifia (the generous Islam)”(Narrated by at-Tirmithi).

The importance of tolerance

Islam has determined the relationship between a Muslim and his Lord; it has called upon him to achieve harmony with all creatures. It has organized his relations with his fellow men, Muslims and non-Muslims of different types and religions on foundations and checks predicated on understanding, dialogue, clemency and good coexistence. This is clearly seen in the guidance of the Qur'an, the biography of the Prophet (ﷺ) and al-Salaf-al-Salih (السلف الصالح the righteous predecessors). There is also the civilizational application of the clemency through the past centuries and the modern age. The importance of tolerance is embedded in the following:

- Tolerating others is conducive to cooperation, amity and rejection of violence and clashes; all live in happiness and felicity.
- The freedom of religious belief and faith which has been approved by Islam allows individuals to live in security and tranquility while practicing their acts of worshipping.
- Through tolerance people exchange expertise and experiences; this yields hidden richness treasured by Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) in this life. Without this richness the life of mankind would have collapsed and lost its right path.

- Tolerance has led to the spread of Islam in remote areas on earth.

I explain

another effect of tolerance:

Sharia control on tolerance:

Showing tolerance to, and the capability to interact easily with, people of different faith does not mean in any way neglecting any of the principles of religion (Usul al-Din أصول الدين) or its branches (furoo-فروع), or the homeland, or one's honor, or the life of a human being. Also, it does not mean weakness and submissiveness because Islam rejects grievance and refuses that Muslims suffer humiliation and servility. A believer is dignified and strong by virtue of his belief and by virtue being a Muslim. Whoever thinks that tolerance, forgiveness, patience and pardoning indicate weakness does not understand the essence of this religion and its greatness. Allah (تعالى) says:

Wa Lawlā Daf`u Allāhi An-Nāsa Ba`dahum Biba`din Lahuddimat Şawāmi`u Wa Biya`un Wa Şalawātun Wa Masājidu Yudhkaru Fihā AsmuAllāhi Kathīrāan Wa Layanşuranna Allāhu ManYanşuruhu~ 'Inna Allāha Laqawīyun `Azīzun

“...Did not Allah check one set of people by means of another, there would surely have been pulled down monasteries, churches, synagogues, and mosques, in which the name of Allah is commemorated in abundant measure. Allah will certainly aid those who aid his (cause);- for verily Allah is full of Strength, Exalted in Might, (able to enforce His Will)” (Sūrat Al-Ĥaj: 40).

Mention:

a situation in which it is permissible to Muslims to show leniency and concede to others:

Aspects of coexisting with and tolerating people of different faith:

Allah (تعالى) says:

Wa Law Shā'a Rabbuka La'āmana Man Fī Al-'Arđi Kulluhum Jamī`āan 'Afa'anta Tukrihu An-Nāsa Ĥattā Yakūnū Mu'uminīna

*“If it had been thy Lord's will, they would all have believed,- all who are on earth!
willyou then compel mankind, against their will, to believe!” (Sūrat Yūnis: 99)*

If one reads the Holy Qur'an, one will realize the truth of tolerance in Islam as it figures in the greatest issue posited by Islam, namely, the issue of unification. Islam has not been founded on persecuting its opponents, usurping their rights or converting them coercively to Islam. The grand rule in this is

لَا إِكْرَاهَ فِي الدِّينِ

(سورة البقرة: 256)

(Lā 'Ikrahā Fī Ad-Dīni)

Let there be no compulsion in religion.

There is consensus among jurists (Fuqahā' - الفقهاء) on that if someone is compelled to embrace Islam, his Islam will be false.

Illustrations

al-Tanoukhi- the envoy of Heraclius- came to the Allah's Messenger (ﷺ). Among other things, Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) asked the envoy:

“Would you embrace Hanfia Islam, the religion of your father Ibrahim?” He answered: “I am the envoy of people who have a religion and I am not going to convert to another religion until I return to them.” The Messenger (ﷺ) laughed and said: “Verily! You guide not whom you like, but Allah guides whom He wills”. He generously hosted him.

The Islamic principle of tolerating people of different faith is incorporated in three precepts:

1. Establishing the freedom of choice as an original right (تأصيل)

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Man `Amila Ṣāliḥāan Falinafsihi Wa Man `Asā'a Fa `alayhā Wa Mā Rabbuka Biẓallāmin Lil` abīdi

“Whoever works righteousness benefits his own soul; whoever works evil, it is against his own soul: nor is your Lord ever unjust (in the least) to His Servants” (Sūrat Fuṣṣilat: 46).

2. Establishing the principle of having dialogue with them in a peaceful, agreeable manner

Ad`u `Ilā Sabīli Rabbika Bil-Ḥikmati Wa Al-Maw`īẓati Al-Ḥasanati Wa Jādilhum Bi-Atī Hiya `Aḥsanu

“Invite (all) to the Way of your Lord with wisdom and beautiful preaching; and argue with them in ways that are best and most gracious...” (Sūrat An-Naḥl: 125)

3. Respecting their privacy as to religion and worshipping

I find evidence of:

Respecting the religious privacy of non-Muslims in Umar's Assurance of Safety to the people of Aelia- l-'Uhda al-'Umariyya (العهدة العمرية- Omar's Pledge).

I explain:

the presence of non-Muslim places of worship in many Muslim countries through the ages.

Lā 'Ikrāha Fī Ad-Dīnī Qad Tabayyana Ar-Rushdu MinaAl-Ghayyi Sūrat Al-Baqarah :256).*

*“Let there be no compulsion in religion: Truth stands out clear from Error...”

Second, tolerance in treatment:

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا كُونُوا قَوَّامِينَ لِلَّهِ شُهَدَاءَ بِالْقِسْطِ وَلَا يَجْرِمَنَّكُمْ
شَتَانُ قَوْمٍ عَلَيْكُمْ أَلَّا تَعْدِلُوا أَعْدِلُوا هُوَ أَقْرَبُ لِلتَّقْوَىٰ...
(سورة المائدة: 8)

Yā 'Ayyuhā Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū Kūnū Qawwāmīna Lillāh Shuhadā'a Bil-Qisṭi Wa
Lā Yajrimannakum Shana'ānu Qawmin 'Alā 'Allā Ta`dilū A`dilū Huwa 'Aqrabu
Lilṭtaqwá

“O you who believe! stand out firmly for Allah, as witnesses to fair dealing, and let not the hatred of others to you make you swerve to wrong and depart from justice.

Be just: that is next to piety ...” (Sūrat Al-Mā'idah : 6).

In the Holy Qur'an there are many verses commanding charity, benevolence, justice and fulfilling pledges. The texts on this are absolute encompassing all as Islam has been founded on tolerance in its relations and never showed antinomy to followers of other religions. Its legislations to Muslims instruct them to treat others in a good way, show kindness to them and talk gently to Muslims and non-Muslims. As such a Muslim should be a good, hospitable neighbor; he should accept presents from his neighbors, take them as in-laws, console them at times of misfortunes, visit those who are sick among them, sends them congratulations on celebratory occasions and call them by the names they like most.

Illuminations

The UAE came in the first rank internationally in peaceful coexistence between nationalities as it hosts 201 nationalities on its territories according to the 2014 report of the International Organization for Peace, Care and Relief, which has special consultative status with the United Nations. The UAE surpassed the USA which came in second rank with 197 nationalities on its territories whereas Britain came in the third rank with 181 nationalities living on its territories.

Associating with, visiting and helping relatives (Ṣilat al-raḥim- صلة الرحم) who are non-Muslims:

- Anas bin Malik (رضي الله عنه) reported: "The king of Dhī-Yazan sent a jar of Manna as a gift to Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) and he had accepted it" (Narrated by Al-Bazaz).

Accepting a present from a non-Muslim:

- Bin 'Abbas (رضي الله عنه) said, "Return the greeting to whoever it is, Jew, Christian, or Magian. That is because Allah says, «When a (courteous) greeting is offered you, meet it with a greeting still more courteous, or (at least) of equal courtesy..." (Al-adab al-mufrad).

Greeting a non-Muslim:

- Allah (تعالى) says:

Wa 'In Janaḥū Lilssalmi Fājnaḥ Lahā Wa Tawakkal `AláAllāhi 'Innahu Huwa As-Samī`u Al-`Alīmu

“But if the enemy inclines towards peace, do you (also) incline towards peace, and trust in Allah. for He is One that hears and knows (all things)” (Sūrat Al-'Anfāl : 61).

- Allah (تعالى) described the creation of the universe by saying:

Wa As-Samā'a Banaynāhā Bi'ayyidīn Wa 'Innā Lamūsi'ūna

"With power and skill did We construct the Firmament: for it is We Who create the vastness of space" (Sūrat Adh-Dhāriyāt : 47)

He described the creation of man saying:

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ اتَّقُوا رَبَّكُمُ الَّذِي خَلَقَكُمْ مِنْ نَفْسٍ وَاحِدَةٍ وَخَلَقَ مِنْهَا زَوْجَهَا وَبَثَّ مِنْهُمَا رِجَالًا
كَثِيرًا وَنِسَاءً...﴾
(سورة النساء: 1)

*Yā 'Ayyuhā An-Nāsu Attaqū Rabbakumu Al-
LadhīKhalaaqakum Min Nafsin Wāhidatin Wa Khalaaqa Minhā Zawjahā Wa Baththa
Minhumā Rijālāan Kathīrāan Wa Nisā'an*

“O mankind! reverence your Guardian-Lord, who created you from a single person, created, of like nature, His mate, and from them twain scattered (like seeds) countless men and women” (Sūrat An-Nisā':1)

﴿وَمَا كَانَ النَّاسُ إِلَّا أُمَّةً وَاحِدَةً فَاخْتَلَفُوا...﴾
(سورة يونس: 19)

Wa Mā Kāna An-Nāsu 'Illā 'Ummatan WāhidatanFakhtalafū

“Mankind was but one nation, but differed (later)...” (Sūrat Yūnis : 19).

Let us look at the similarity between creating the universe and creating man; this can be called the law of 'differentiation and integration':

The universe	Man
The universe emerged from one mass. By the will of its Lord this mass exploded producing celestial bodies and stars, which scattered, diffused and drew away from one another and extended in the universal vacuum.	Allah (تَعَالَى) created all mankind from one soul; but the differences between them in all matters were almost beyond count and they spread on earth males and females.
Allah (تَعَالَى) created gravity to rein in the uncontrollable expansion of the universe and to make the universe subside, synthesize and stabilize giving vent to beauty and harmony between its components.	Allah (تَعَالَى) created mercy in the hearts of his servants and sent messengers to unite people in love and harmony irrespective of their different languages and colors to control difference and standardize it in order to avoid the evils attached to divergence and dispute.

2. I conduct a search:

In every age we find some people who perceive of the inevitability of clash and the impossibility of coexistence between the followers of different religions and creeds; these dissonant voices are not restricted to a particular group or religion.

Write a report on the Samuel Huntington's hypothesis on the 'clash of civilizations'.

The Etiquette of Visions and Dreams in Islam

We read and explore

- explain what is meant by dreams and visions.
- explain the difference between a dream and a vision.
- identify the types of things a sleeping person sees in his sleep.
- infer the etiquette governing vision.
- warn of making mistakes.

in cooperation with my group, we discuss the following statement: 'The vision of prophets is true'.

Illuminations

Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said:

"When the time draws near (when the Resurrection is near) a believer's dream can hardly be false. And the truest vision will be of one who is himself the most truthful in speech" (Narrated by Muslim).

I explain:

the interpretation of the vision of our master Yusuf (عليه السلام):

The truth of what a sleeping person sees:

In his sleep a person sees dreams; sometimes they are good, pleasing dreams; but at other times they are detestable, sad ones. A person may see something from the reality he lives and preoccupies himself with; some dreams are clear and do not require interpretation whereas others are beyond cognition and require interpretation. In our present time some people hurry to interpreters of dreams and those who work in the field of interpreting dreams to explain to them what they see in sleep. Many of these people made grave mistakes because they are ignorant of the sunnah of the Prophet (ﷺ) in this domain. The Prophet (ﷺ) explained types of vision when he said, "Dreams are of three types: a bad dream which causes distress and this is from Shaytan (the devil);

a dream which represents what a person is thinking about and a dream which is the forty-sixth part of Prophecy" (Narrated by Bin Majah).

I summarize:

the three types of dreams on the basis of the hadith above:

<hr/> <hr/> <hr/>

I draw a comparison:

between dream and vision in terms of the difference between the two:

Dream
Vision

Vision is the name given to the things a sleeping person sees during sleep; it is also called dream. Scholars have elucidated the difference between vision types in the following way:

First type of vision:

True, good vision is one in which a sleeping person sees something lovable to him and as such his soul is filled with delight; this vision is God-send. The Messenger (ﷺ) said, "If any of you sees a dream that he likes, let him thank Allah for it" (Narrated by Al-Bukhari). The vision might be clear requiring no interpretation as the vision of our master Ibrahim (عليه السلام) when he saw in his sleep that he was slaughtering his son. On the other hand, a vision might be inexplicable, symbolic requiring someone to interpret it such as the vision of the two prison mates of Allah's prophet Yusuf (عليه السلام). Also, it might be a harbinger of reward and good, or a warning of evil or a calamity. The etiquette of visions prescribes that the person who has a vision shall only reveal it to those who wish him good and hide it from those who habitually wish him evil or envy him.

Second type of vision:

This is a bad vision which derives from the devil; it is saddening and precipitates grief in man. The Messenger (ﷺ) said, "If any of you sees a dream that he dislikes, it is from Shaytan (the devil) so let him seek refuge with Allah from its evil" (Narrated by Al-Bukhari). Etiquette associated with bad vision is keeping it secret, seek refuge in Allah from the evil three times, spit on his right three times and do not seek anyone to interpret it.

Third type of vision:

This is talking to oneself while awake as the case is with someone preoccupied by an examination, travel or trade. In his sleep, this person will see things he has been thinking of when awake. These are medley, kaleidoscopic dreams denoting nothing; they are contradictory, overlapping with no beginning or end. Their etiquette involves keeping them secret and not to anticipate bad things.

I summarize:

In cooperation with my group, I summarize the etiquette of each type of vision.

I reflect and complete:

the table below with appropriate information:

	True vision	Vision in a bad dream	Medley dreams
Source	From Allah	Talking to oneself
Definition	Bad, saddening; one should not ask for interpretation and keep it secret

I classify:

In cooperation with my group, I classify the following cases according to vision type: (good vision, dream, hadith):

	Case	Type of vision
1	Someone saw in a dream that he was falling from a mountain and he woke up in fright.
2	Rashid saw in his sleep his father building a beautiful house surrounded by gardens.
3	Someone saw in his sleep that he was swimming, then he saw himself in a football match and in other things he could not remember.
4	Jawahir saw in a dream that she was going round Ka'bah with her mother and supplicating to Allah (عَزَّوَجَلَّ).

Controls on vision

Vision is a wide-spread matter, which happens to all people. Some people view it very optimistically whereas others view it with frustration and anxiety. However, a believer surely knows that it is neither beneficial nor harmful except with the will of Allah (تَعَالَى). A believer resorts to the controls of vision comprising:

- commitment to honesty: it is forbidden for a Muslim to claim that he has seen a dream which he has not seen because this is telling a lie, i.e. he is telling a lie to Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى). The Prophet (ﷺ) told us a good vision is from Allah (تَعَالَى); also honesty assists in making the vision come true.
- following the Prophet's Sunnah, the Prophet (ﷺ) has explained what must be done when each type of vision occurs.
- avoiding disclosing the vision to ignorant people lest they interpret it in an unbecoming way. The Prophet (ﷺ) informed us of the vision when he said, "If it is interpreted, it will occur" (Narrated by Abu Daoud). This means the vision will occur as interpreted.
- following the example of the Prophet (ﷺ) when going to sleep. i.e. performing Wudū' (ritual purification), dhikr (remembrance) of Allah (تَعَالَى) and Isti'adhah (seeking refuge in Allah from the devil and sleeping on the right side, all these assist in warding off the devil.
- a vision might come true instantly or be delayed, therefore, a Muslim's confidence in his Lord must remain firm and unshakeable; the vision of Allah's prophet Yusuf (عليه السلام) was realized after long years.
- each vision is specific to the person who has experienced it; its interpretation is also specific to him. If another person experiences the same vision, it should not be interpreted in terms of the vision experienced by the first person.

- If one sees the Prophet (ﷺ) in one's sleep, this is a true vision and carries good tidings to the person who experiences the vision; but no Sharia ruling must be based on it.

I analyze and form a view:

of the following cases explaining the motive in each case:

someone appointed himself a 'mufti' (expert) in matters pertinent to vision without having the necessary scientific knowledge.

- someone launched a satellite television station specialized in interpreting dreams.

- Someone advertises in the media that he is capable of interpreting dreams, proficient in palmistry and return lost things.

I make a judgment:

on the following acts giving reasons:

- some people are keen on knowing the interpretation of everything they see in sleep.

- someone interprets dreams to entertain himself and pastime.

Wrong practices:

In their attempts to interpret dreams, some people engage in practices that lead sometimes to despair and frustration including:

1. maximizing the import of vision and being preoccupied by it for long periods with attendant anxiety and expectation,
2. holding sessions to interpret dreams and then turning these sessions to palmistry and coffee reading (tasseography),
3. paying money in return for dream interpretation, some people have employed this as a means of earning income,
4. interpreting dreams publicly; this sometimes causes antagonism and partying company,
5. promoting books on interpretation of dreams with the intention of making profits or popularizing certain writers,
6. asking repeatedly to have the same dream interpreted.

Illuminations

In his time, when Bin Sirin was asked of a hundred dreams, he did not explain any one of them except by saying: "Fear Allah and be good in your wakefulness and what you have seen in your sleep will not hurt you".

I investigate:

other wrong practices.

Who interprets vision:

Interpreting visions is a science derived from by Allah (تَعَالَى); Allah (عَزَّ وَجَلَّ) granted Yusuf (عليه السلام) this science; Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

وَكَذَلِكَ يَجْنِبُكَ رَبُّكَ وَيُعَلِّمُكَ مِنْ تَأْوِيلِ الْأَحَادِيثِ وَيُتِمُّ نِعْمَتَهُ عَلَيْكَ...

(سورة يوسف: 6)

Wa Kadhalika Yajtabika Rabbuka Wa Yu'allimuka Min Ta'wili Al-'Aḥādīthi Wa Yutimmu Ni`matahu 'alay-ka

"Thus will your Lord choose you and teach you the interpretation of stories (and events) and perfect His favour to you..." (Sūrat Yūsuf : 4).

Also, Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

... وَكَذَلِكَ مَكَّنَّا لِيُوسُفَ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَلِنُعَلِّمَهُ مِنْ تَأْوِيلِ الْأَحَادِيثِ...

(سورة يوسف: 21)

Wa Kadhalika Makkannā Liyūsufa Fī Al-'Arḍi Wa Linu'allimahu Min Ta'wili Al-'Aḥādīthi

"Thus did We establish Joseph in the land, that We might teach him the interpretation of stories (and events)" (Sūrat Yūsuf : 21).

When Yusuf (عليه السلام) interpreted the vision of the prison mates he attributed his knowledge to Allah (تعالى) in the first place:

Dhālikumā Mimmā `Allamanī Rabbī (Sūrat Yūsuf : 37)

“...that is part of the (duty) which my Lord has taught me...” (Sūrat Yūsuf : 37).

He did so because he did not fill with people with pride to the degree of associating him with knowledge of the unseen, or to make ignorant people think that he was a god. He explained that this faculty of interpreting visions was a gift of Allah and he had to be thankful to Allah for giving it to him.

Therefore, someone who sets himself the task of interpreting dreams must be very clever in this science, possessing piety and chastity and must remember that he will be accountable to what he says and does. Also, he must perform this in order to draw closer to Allah (تعالى) and not to practice it as a trade or a means of earning money in order to take people's wealth through superstition and lies. Moreover, he is required to keep the secrets of people and not disclose them to other; he is also required to avoid defamation and emphatic reproach.

I infer:

from the above that one who interprets dreams must:

The Islamic Economic System

We read and explore

- explain what is meant by the 'Islamic Economic System'
- draw a comparison between economic systems
- explain the foundations of the 'Islamic Economic System'
- infer the objectives of the 'Islamic Economic System'
- make sure of benefiting from the 'Islamic Economic System'.

I take the initiative to learn

Islam consists of a group of interconnected systems which organize life in all its aspects; one of these systems is the economic system.

Adam Smith, one of the major theoreticians of capitalist thought, said: "It is not from the benevolence of the butcher, the brewer, or the baker that we expect our dinner, but from their regard to their own interest".

I discuss

examples of matters relating to the law of 'personal affairs' in Islam.

I use my skills to learn

Islamic economy and Economics

Linguistically, economy is intermediacy or moderation; this is the essence, intrinsic quality and goal of Economics. Allah (تعالى) says:

Minhum 'Ummatun Muqtaṣidatun Wa Kathīrun Minhum Sā'a Mā Ya`malūna

"...There is from among them a party on the right course: but many of them follow a course that is evil." (Sūrat Al-Mā'idah : 66).

The economic system in Islam consists of Sharia rulings and rules which organize methods of earning and spending money. On the other hand, Economics is the science which discusses methods of increasing production and investing and developing resources at a minimal cost. Hence the economic system is linked to doctrines, principles and ideas held which societies believe in. It determines what is valid and borrowable from Economics and what is invalid. Developing a dairy or alcohol beverages factory is linked to Economics. On the other hand, the economic system determines the legitimacy of dairy industry and prohibition of alcohol. Confusing the economic system with Economics results in a grave flaw in as much as perceiving the causes of economic problems and methods of tackling them is concerned.

Economic systems:

1. The capitalist system:

In the beginning of the European Renaissance, European thinkers and philosophers called for an alternative system to feudalism which is more capable of realizing economic welfare. The capitalist system spread; capitalism is based on the freedom of individuals and corporations to privately own sources of production and use them in the way they find suitable. However, this system refused to incorporate value and ethical elements in its theories and economic studies arguing that this would result in lack of objectivity in scientific studies. The system failed to tackle many economic problems inherited from the previous system- feudalism. Class differences in society were deepened and poverty increased and so too did the cost of living.

2. The socialist system:

The socialist system was built on the idea of planned economy whereby the state owns all aspects of production. This system was executed in some countries in the beginning of the 20th century in the hope of delving into a more affluent society. However, this system led to a state of 'lack of incentive' and reduced production. By the end of the 20th century the socialist system collapsed in most countries of the world and its failure was proven in all socio-economic levels.

3. Mixed economy:

This system was built on combining some characteristics of the capitalist system with some characteristics of the socialist system while preserving the basic features of the original system that was transformed into a mixed economy.

The outcome:

The capitalist system lost its stability and this resulted in successive and recurring economic crises which spread all over the world; the last crisis occurred in 2008. Many western economists noticed that Islamic economic transactions were not affected by existing economic crises. Several western economists called for the necessity of making the value and ethical aspect of the foundation of economic research, studying the Islamic economic system, adopting the principles and ideas of this system and benefiting from the jurisprudence of Islamic financial transactions.

The foundations of Islamic economy

1. Faith foundations:

Islamic faith is the most important foundation on which Islamic economy is built. The belief in the oneness of Allah (تَعَالَى) and the slavery of man to Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) yield a number of beliefs linked to a Muslim's economic life.

I explain

matters of faith linked to a Muslim's economic life indicated in the following texts:

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

*Lillāh Mulku As-Samāwāti Wa Al-'Arđi Wa Mā Fihinna Wa Huwa `Alá
Kulli Shay'in Qadīrun (Sūrat Al-Mā'idah: 121)*

“To Allah does belong the dominion of the heavens and the earth, and all that is therein, and it is He Who has power over all things” (Sūrat Al-Mā'idah: 121).

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

*'Alam Taraw 'Anna Allāha Sakhkhara Lakum Mā Fī As-Samāwāti Wa Mā Fī Al-
'Arđi Wa 'Asbagha `Alaykum Ni` amahu Žāhiratan Wa Bāṭinatan*

“Do you not see that Allah has subjected to your (use) all things in the heavens and on earth, and has made his bounties flow to you in exceeding measure, (both) seen and unseen?” (Sūrat Luqmān : 20).

- Wealth is a blessing granted to man by Allah (تَعَالَى) and man has to be thankful for this.
- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa 'Anfiqū Mimmā Ja` alakum Mustakhlafīna Fīhi (Sūrat Al-Ĥadīd : 7)

“...and spend (in charity) out of the (substance) whereof He has made you heirs...” (Sūrat Al-Ĥadīd : 7).

- Man is entrusted with wealth and he has to pay what is due to Allah in this wealth.
- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa Allāhu Yarzuqu Man Yashā'u Bighayri Ĥisābin

“...for Allah bestows His abundance without measure on whom He will” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah :212).

- Man endeavors to earn his living, has to be satisfied with what Allah (تَعَالَى) gives him and must avoid entertaining feelings of envy and hate.
- The Messenger (ﷺ) said,

“The son of Adam will not be dismissed from before his Lord on the Day of Resurrection until he has been questioned about his life and how he spent it, how he acted upon what he acquired of knowledge, his wealth and how he earned it and how he disposed of it and his youth and how he used” (Sunan al-Darimi).

- Man is accountable for his wealth; he must

2. Ethical foundations:

Islam has formulated a whole system of values and ethics and made it the foundation of its systems in general and its economic system in particular. The foundations relating to belief and ethics in the Islamic economic system created self-control in the souls of Muslims to check on their acts and transactions. Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, “He is not a believer whose stomach is filled while the neighbor to his side goes hungry” (al-Jaami’ as-Sagheer).

I deduce

aspects relating to values and ethics in the Islamic economic system in the following texts:

- Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said,

“May Allah have mercy on one who he is generous when he sells when he buys and when he demands payment of debt” (Narrated by Bin Majah).

- Allah (تعالى) says:

Wa 'In Kāna Dhū 'Usratin Fanažiratun 'Ilá Maysaratin Wa 'An Taşaddaqū Khayrun Lakum 'In Kuntum Ta`lamūna (Sūrat Al-Baqarah:280)

“If the debtor is in a difficulty, grant him time till it is easy for him to repay. But if you remit it by way of charity, that is best for you if you only knew” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah :280)

- Giving the debtor a period of grace if he fails to repay in time and facilitating transactions.

- Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said,

"Nobody has ever eaten a better meal than that which one has earned by working with one's own hands. The Prophet of Allah David used to eat from the earnings of his manual labor" (Narrated by Al-Bukahri).

- Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said,

"The honest, trustworthy merchant will be with the Prophets, siddeeqs (truthful Muslims) and martyrs" (Narrated by at-Tirmithi).

- Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said,

"The two parties to a transaction have the choice so long as they have not separated. If they are honest and open, their transaction will be blessed, but if they tell lies and conceal anything, the blessing of their transaction will be lost" (Narrated by Al-Bukhari and Muslim).

3. Legislative foundations:

The economic system is based on a number of terms and rules derived from the sources of Islamic legislations, which regulate economic activity and realize its stability.

I explain:

the most important legislative rules of the Islamic economic system in the following texts:

- Allah (تعالى) says:

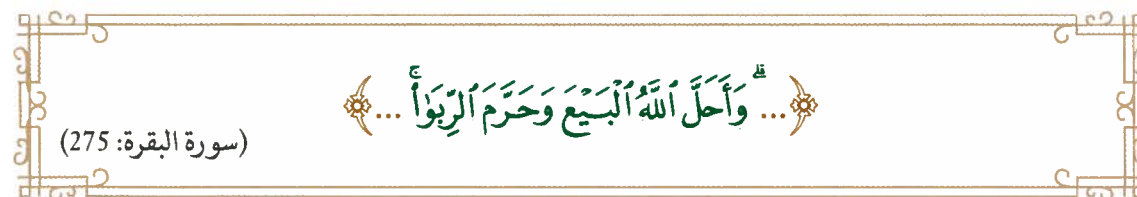

Yā 'Ayyuhā Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū Lā Ta'kulū 'Amwālakum Baynakum Bil-Bāṭili 'Illā 'An Takūna Tijāratan 'An Tarādīn Minkum (Sūrat An-Nisā' : 29)

“O you who believe! Eat not up your property among yourselves in vanities: But let there be amongst you traffic and trade by mutual good-will: Nor kill (or destroy) yourselves: for verily Allah has been to you Most Merciful!” (Sūrat An-Nisā' : 29).

- Contentment must prevail in trading
- Prohibiting taking money illegitimately through bribes, deception and monopoly, for instance.
- Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said, “Do not harm and do not cause harm” (Narrated by Malik).

- Allah (تعالى) says:

Wa 'Aḥalla Allāhu Al-Bay`a Wa Ḥarrama Ar-Ribā

“...but Allah hath permitted trade and forbidden usury...” (Sūrat Al-Baqarah :275).

Types of Legislative rules in Islamic economy

Legislative economic rules in Islam are two types:

1. Fixed rules: these are rules that do not change with temporal and spatial changes. They include matters proven by incontrovertible evidence from the Qur'an or Sunnah such as zakat obligation.
2. Changing rules: these are rules which change with changing circumstances; they are subject to Ijtihad (independent reasoning) by scholars and specialists in conformance to interest such as the change of units of weight from 'mudd ' (مد) to 'saa' (صاع) and the like to contemporary units of weight. Measurement units are linked to many rulings such as iftar fidyah (breaking a fast donation) for those who are excused from fasting such as sick people, the elderly and pregnant women, amount of sadaqat al-fitr (charity given to the poor at the end of fasting), Kaffara (religious donation of money or food made to help those in need) and other matters.

I classify

the following economic matters according to their terms into fixed and changing rules giving the reason for this.

Economic matters	Fixed rules	Changing rules	Reason
Pricing
Bribe
Insurance Monopoly
Inheritance shares
Penal conditions in contracts

The goals of the Islamic economic system:

A. Realizing economic welfare and the happiness of man:

Allah (تعالى) says:

*Qul Man Ĥarrama Zīnata Allāhi Allatī 'Akhraja Li' ibādihi Wa Aṭ-Ṭayyibāti
Mina Ar-Rizq*

“Say: Who has forbidden the beautiful (gifts) of Allah, which He has produced for His servants...” (Sūrat Al-'A`raf : 32).

The holy verse instructs us to realize happiness and good live for man, improve his conditions materially and morally and eradicate the causes of hardship and difficulties in order to achieve the divine honoring of mankind referred to in the words of Allah (تعالى):

Wa Laqad Karramnā Banī 'Ādama Wa Ḥamalnāhum Fī Al-Barri Wa Al-Baḥri Wa Razaqnāhum Mīna Aṭ-Ṭayyibāti Wa Fadḍalnāhum `Alā Kathīrin Mimman Khalaqnā Tafḍilāan

“We have honoured the sons of Adam; provided them with transport on land and sea; given them for sustenance things good and pure; and conferred on them special favours, above a great part of our creation” (Sūrat Al-'Isrā': 70).

B. Ideal allocation of economic resources:

Resources are a trust of the Creator entrusted to all mankind; therefore, conservation and development of economic resources is an important goal pursued by Islamic Sharia.

I analyze and deduce:

from the following texts the most important Sharia controls on the ideal exploitation of economic resources:

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

... وَالَّذِينَ يَكْنِزُونَ الذَّهَبَ وَالْفِضَّةَ وَلَا يَنْفِقُونَهَا فِي سَبِيلِ
 اللَّهُ فَبَشِّرْهُمْ بِعَذَابٍ أَلِيمٍ ﴿٣٤﴾
 (سورة التوبة: 34)

Wa Al-Ladhīna Yaknizūna Adh-Dhahaba Wa Al-Fiddata Wa Lā Yunfiqūnahā Fī Sabīli Allāhi Fabashshirhum Bi`adhābin 'Alīmin

“And there are those who bury gold and silver and spend it not in the way of Allah.
 Announce unto them a most grievous penalty-“ (Sūrat At-Tawbah: 34).

- Appreciation of the value of money, regarding it as the backbone of economic development and prohibiting hoarding money and suspending its use in production.
- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

وَلَوْ أَنَّ أَهْلَ الْقُرَىٰ ءَامَنُوا وَأَتَّقُوا لَفَنَحْنَاهُمْ مِنْ السَّمَاءِ
 وَالْأَرْضِ .. ﴿٩٦﴾
 (سورة الأعراف: 96)

*Wa Law 'Anna 'Ahla Al-Qurá 'Āmanū Wa Attaqaw Lafatahnā
 'Alayhim Barakātin Mina As-Samā'i Wa Al-'Arđi*

“If the people of the towns had but believed and feared Allah, We should indeed have opened out to them (All kinds of) blessings from heaven and earth...” (Sūrat Al-'A`rāf : 96).

- Allah (تعالى) says:

Wa Al-Ladhīna 'Idhā 'Anfaqū Lam Yusrifū Wa Lam Yaqturū Wa Kāna Bayna Dhālika Qawāmān

“Those who, when they spend, are not extravagant and not niggardly, but hold a just (balance) between those (extremes)” (Sūrat Al-Furqān : 67).

- Achieving sustainable development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs by

- Achieving social solidarity and eradicating poverty: Islam has enacted a number of resource-related rulings which contribute to achieving sufficient living expenses to those who cannot support themselves; these rulings comprise zakat system, sadaqah (religious donations) and endowments in addition to rulings in distributing inheritance to expand economic activity, increase job opportunities and reduce the acuity of class differences between social groups.

C. Achieving economic freedom:

Economic freedom in Islam is based on human freedom; Islam made the outcome of man's effort and his endeavor a sole property for him. It gave man the freedom to do with his property what he likes. However, this freedom is restricted by the teachings and controls of Islam that are based on obedience to Allah (تعالى) his Messenger (ﷺ) and the ruler.

I deduce:

from the discussion with my group the limits of economic freedom in the Islamic economic system.

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Fa'in 'Ānastum Minhum Rushdāan Fādḡau 'Ilayhim 'amwāla-hum

“...if then you find sound judgment in them, release their property to them...”

(Sūrat An-Nisā': 6)

- Action is restricted by the ability to make sound judgment and awareness of the good involves in the action.

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Wa Kulū Wa Ashrabū Wa Lā Tusrifū 'Innahu Lā YuḡibbuAl-Musrifīna

“... eat and drink: But waste not by excess, for Allah loves not the wasters”(Sūrat Al-'A`rāf : 31).

- Al Nu'man bin Bashir (رضي الله عنهما) said: "My father gave me a gift. My mother, 'Amra bint Rawaha said that she would not agree to it unless he made the Prophet (ﷺ) a witness to it. So my father went to the Prophet (ﷺ) and said, 'I have given a gift to my son from 'Amra bint Rawaha, but she ordered me to make you a witness to it.' The Messenger (ﷺ) said, 'Have you given the like of it to everyone of your children?' He said, 'No.' The Messenger (ﷺ) said, 'Be afraid of Allah and be just to your children" (Narrated by Al-Bukhari).

D. Achieving material and moral power to the state:

Achieving the above goals is conducive to building a stable, strong economy and the progress and prosperity of society; this eventually increases the material and moral power of the state.

Chaste Families, Pure Society

Sūrat An-Nūr: 58-61

We read and explore

- read the holy verses from memory observing the rules of recitation.
- explain the Qur'anic vocabulary.
- infer some of the rulings in the holy verses.
- explain the effects of commitment to the rulings of Islamic Sharia on preserving society.
- apply the values incorporated in the holy verses.

I take the initiative to learn

The illuminations of 'Sūrat An-Nūr' continue to spread virtues and morals in the domain of Muslim society, instilling this society with virtuous values to protect families and society against erring. After having explained the necessity of asking permission before entering a house in order to familiarize the people in the house with the visitor, reassure them about him and give them a chance to prepare for receiving him. The chapter completes in these verses the bright image of Islamic etiquette by explaining the rules governing how the people inside the house ask permission from one another.

Illumination

Sahl bin Sa'd (رضي الله عنه) reported: Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) said:

“Verily! The order of taking permission to enter has been enjoined because of the sight” (Narrated by Al-Bukhari and Muslim).

I expect

the positive effects of a Muslim's commitment to the Islamic etiquette in asking permission to enter the house of the people he is visiting:

Effects relating to the visitor
Effects relating to the person being visited Effects relating to society

I learn the explanation of Qur'anic vocabulary:

Vocabulary item	Explanation	My notes
لَمْ يَبْلُغُوا الْحُلُمَ (LamYablughū Al- Ĥuluma)who have not come to puberty	Those who have not reached the age of having wet dreams.

مَلَائِكَةٌ مَّفَاتِحُهُ (Mafātiĥahu)whereof you hold the keys	Houses you are free to enter by direct right or on behalf of their owners.
أَشْتَاتًا (`Ashtātāan)apart	Each one by oneself

Chaste families:

The holy verses tackle organizing the conduct of family members on the basis that the family is the first building block of society. They organize and direct the patterns of conduct so that the family carries out its duty in bringing up a pure generation characterized by fine values and exemplary etiquette. Perhaps the highest value is that of respecting the privacy of those living with them. They are supposed not to hurt their feelings, disturb them or look at their private parts. Islam has prohibited adults from entering on others without asking for permission and this ruling includes all times. In these verses Islam explains a ruling ignored and taken carelessly by many—namely, children and house servants entering on the people of the house. It has meticulously organized this process in order to protect the family and preserve the morals of its members .

It is narrated that a man asked the Prophet (ﷺ) "Should I seek permission to enter my mother's room?" The Prophet answered 'Yes'. The man said, ' We live together in the same house'. The Messenger of Allah said 'Ask permission to join her'. The man said 'But she has no one to serve her except me. Should I ask permission whenever I enter her room?' The Prophet said 'Would you like to see her naked?' The man replied 'No'. The prophet said 'Then ask for her permission before entering" (Mishkat al-Masabih).

And:

Yā 'Ayyuhā Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū Liyasta'dhinkumu Al-Ladhīna Malakat

'Aymānukum Wa Al-Ladhīna LamYablughū Al-Ḥuluma

“O ye who believe! let those whom your right hands possess, and the (children) among you who have not come of age ask your permission (before they come to your presence)”

b) the significance of addressing fathers in the words of Allah (تعالى):

*Yā 'Ayyuhā Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū Liyasta'dhinkumu Al-Ladhīna Malakat
'Aymānukum Wa Al-Ladhīna LamYablughū Al-Ĥuluma*

“O ye who believe! let those whom your right hands possess, and the (children) among you who have not come of age ask your permission (before they come to your presence)”

This is so although those who are meant to ask for leave to come in are the children.

Bin Abbas said, “People stopped working according to three verses and took them lightly:

*Yā 'Ayyuhā Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū Liyasta'dhinkumu Al-Ladhīna Malakat
'Aymānukum Wa Al-Ladhīna LamYablughū Al-Ĥuluma*

“O you who believe! let those whom your right hands possess, and the (children) among you who have not come of age ask your permission (before they come to your presence)”

And the verse in Sūrat An-Nisā':

﴿وَإِذَا حَضَرَ الْقِسْمَةَ أُولُو الْقُرْبَىٰ...﴾

(سورة النساء: 8)

Wa 'Idhā Ḥaḍara Al-Qismata 'Ulū Al-Qurbá

“But if at the time of division other relatives are present...” (8).

And the verse in Sūrat Al-Ḥujurāt

﴿...إِنَّ أَكْرَمَكُمْ عِنْدَ اللَّهِ أَنْفَقَكُمْ إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلِيمٌ خَبِيرٌ﴾

I cooperate; we draw a comparison between two families: one family adhered to the rules of taking leave to come to presence inside the house and taught its members this etiquette; the other took this matter carelessly.

Result

We explain:

The relation between the practicality of Islamic legislation and the rule of children and servants entering upon people dwelling in the house:

Chastity is all good:

The holy verses explain to us one principle of the great principles of Islam, which is a religion of facilitation and mercy. The veil is one of the religious duties required of Muslim women; but elderly woman who are past the age of marrying or bearing children are allowed to to lighten their clothings in order to alleviate hardship on them on condition that they do not appear adorned although it is better for them to commit themselves to complete veil.

I explain

The meanings of the words of Allah (تعالى):

Wa Al-Qawā `idu Mina An-Nisā' Al-Latī Lā Yarjūna Nikāhāan Falaysa `Alayhinna
Junāhun 'An Yada `naThiyābahunna Ghayra Mutabarrijātin Bizīnatin Wa
'AnYasta `fifna Khayrun Lahunna Wa Allāhu Samī `un `Alīmun

Such elderly women as are past the prospect of marriage, - there is no blame on them if they lay aside their (outer) garments, without displaying their beauty .But it is best for them , and Allah is One Who sees and knows all things to be modest .

What is meant by

- 'lay aside their (outer) garments'

- 'to be modest'

Illustrations

Hijab

Hijab means the garment covering the whole body of a woman except her face and hands; a woman's clothing is supposed to be loose in order not to reveal the contours of her body or allow seeing through the clothing.

I infer

aspects of the modesty of elderly women as explained by the holy verse:

.....

I find evidence of the balance involved in Islamic legislation as regards urging modesty and avoiding embarrassment and hardship:

.....

I explain the significance of:

Concluding the two holy verses (58) and (59) by the words of Allah (تَعَالَى):

Wa Allāhu `Alīmun Ḥakīmun

“...Allah is All-Knower, All-Wise.”

Taking care of and protecting human rights

After having organized conduct inside a Muslim household, the holy verses set on illuminating the arrangement of relations between relatives and friends. The purpose of this arrangement is to keep social relations connected and harmonized and make the conduct of Muslims inside and outside the family predicated on respect and appreciation and distanced from double measures. By observing this, society becomes one big family free of embarrassment stirring practices and hardship.

Aisha (رضي الله عنها) said: “Muslims who wanted to go on ‘nafir’ (call to action) with Allah’s Messenger (ﷺ) used to give their keys to those whom they trust and say to them ‘We have given you permission to take from our possessions whatever you like’. The addressed would say ‘This is not lawful because they have given us permission under duress’. Allah (عز وجل) revealed

﴿أَوْ مَا مَلَكَتُمْ مَفَاتِحَهُ﴾

... (Aw Mā Malaktum Mafātiḥahu)

Some tribes in the pre-Islamic era used to boycott people with special needs, isolate them and forbid them to engage in normal life practices. Lame, blind or sick did not have food with others out of respect to their private conditions. The holy verses were revealed to relieve weak people of embarrassment; they were also allowed to accompany the Prophet (ﷺ) in his campaigns. The verses also preserved the rights of these people to eat in the houses of other people so that their disabilities do not cause them to isolate themselves from society and preserve the unity and strength of society and all the groups constituting it. This humanitarian dimension gives our true religion precedence over modern societies in calling to appreciate people with special needs, incorporating them in their communities and taking care of them. The UAE has been keen on taking care of the rights of people with special needs and incorporating them in society out of its established principles.

After having mentioned the groups of people we are allowed to eat in their houses, the verses set on explain are feel embarrassed of eating alone. The verses were revealed to relieve such people of embarrassment by permitting them to eat individually or in groups. Allah (تعالى) says:

﴿لَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ جُنَاحٌ أَنْ تَأْكُلُوا جَمِيعًا أَوْ أَشْتَاتًا﴾

Laysa 'Alaykum Junāhun 'An Ta'kulū Jamī' āan 'Aw 'Ashtātāan

No sin shall it be for you whether you eat together or apart

The verses continue to illuminate the conduct of Muslims by explaining the etiquette of communicating with a visitor. The visitor must greet the person being visited as if he is greeting himself. This greeting (saying السلام عليكم 'as-salāmu 'alaykum'- 'peace be upon you') is from Allah; it fills the soul of the person being visited with serenity and blesses the visitor. This also applies when one enters an uninhabited house or one's own house. In this case one greets oneself by saying 'السلام علينا وعلى عباد الله الصالحين' as-Salamu 'Alayna wa 'Ala 'Ibad-Allah-is-Saliheen' (Peace be upon us and on the righteous salves of Allah).

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

... فَإِذَا دَخَلْتُمْ بُيُوتًا فَسَلِّمُوا عَلَىٰ أَنفُسِكُمْ تَحِيَّةً مِّنْ عِنْدِ اللَّهِ مُبْرَكَةً طَيِّبَةً ...

Fa'idhā DakhaltumBuyūtāan Fasallimū 'Alā 'Anfusikum Tahīyatan Min 'IndiAllāhi Mubārakatan

"...But if ye enter houses, salute each other - a greeting of blessing and purity as from Allah..."

The One who has set you the task of observing these rules is a God who loves to bestow good on you; He commands you to observe rules whose benefit returns to you; if you obey His commands, you will benefit from these commands in worldly life and His rewards await you in the Afterlife.

- Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Kadhālika Yubayyinu Allāhu Lakumu Al-'Āyāti La` allakum Ta` qilūna

"...Thus does Allah make clear the signs to you: that you may understand".

Anas bin Malik (رضي الله عنه) said: "The Companions used to knock of the door of the Prophet (ﷺ) with the tips of their fingers" (Narrated by Al Hakim).

I give examples of

- the way Islam takes care of people with special needs apart from what is mentioned in the holy text.

- the efforts exerted by the UAE to take care of people with special needs.

I cooperate with one of my fellow students and explain the significance of:

- the fact that the house of the son is not explicitly mentioned with the houses in which people are allowed to eat without asking for permission.

.....

- the words of Allah (تَعَالَى):

Fasallimū `Alá `Anfusikum

"...salute each other..."

.....

- describing the salutation السلام عليكم 'as-salāmu `alaykum'- 'peace be upon you' by the words تَحِيَّةٌ مِّنْ عِنْدِ اللَّهِ (Taḥīyatan Min `IndiAllāhi "a greeting ... from Allah")

.....

Using the utterance (صَدِيقِكُمْ Ṣadīqikum) friend instead of the plural- friends- in the holy verse:

Mā Malaktum Mafātihahu'Aw Ṣadīqikum

“...of which the keys are in your possession, or in the house of a sincere friend of yours...”

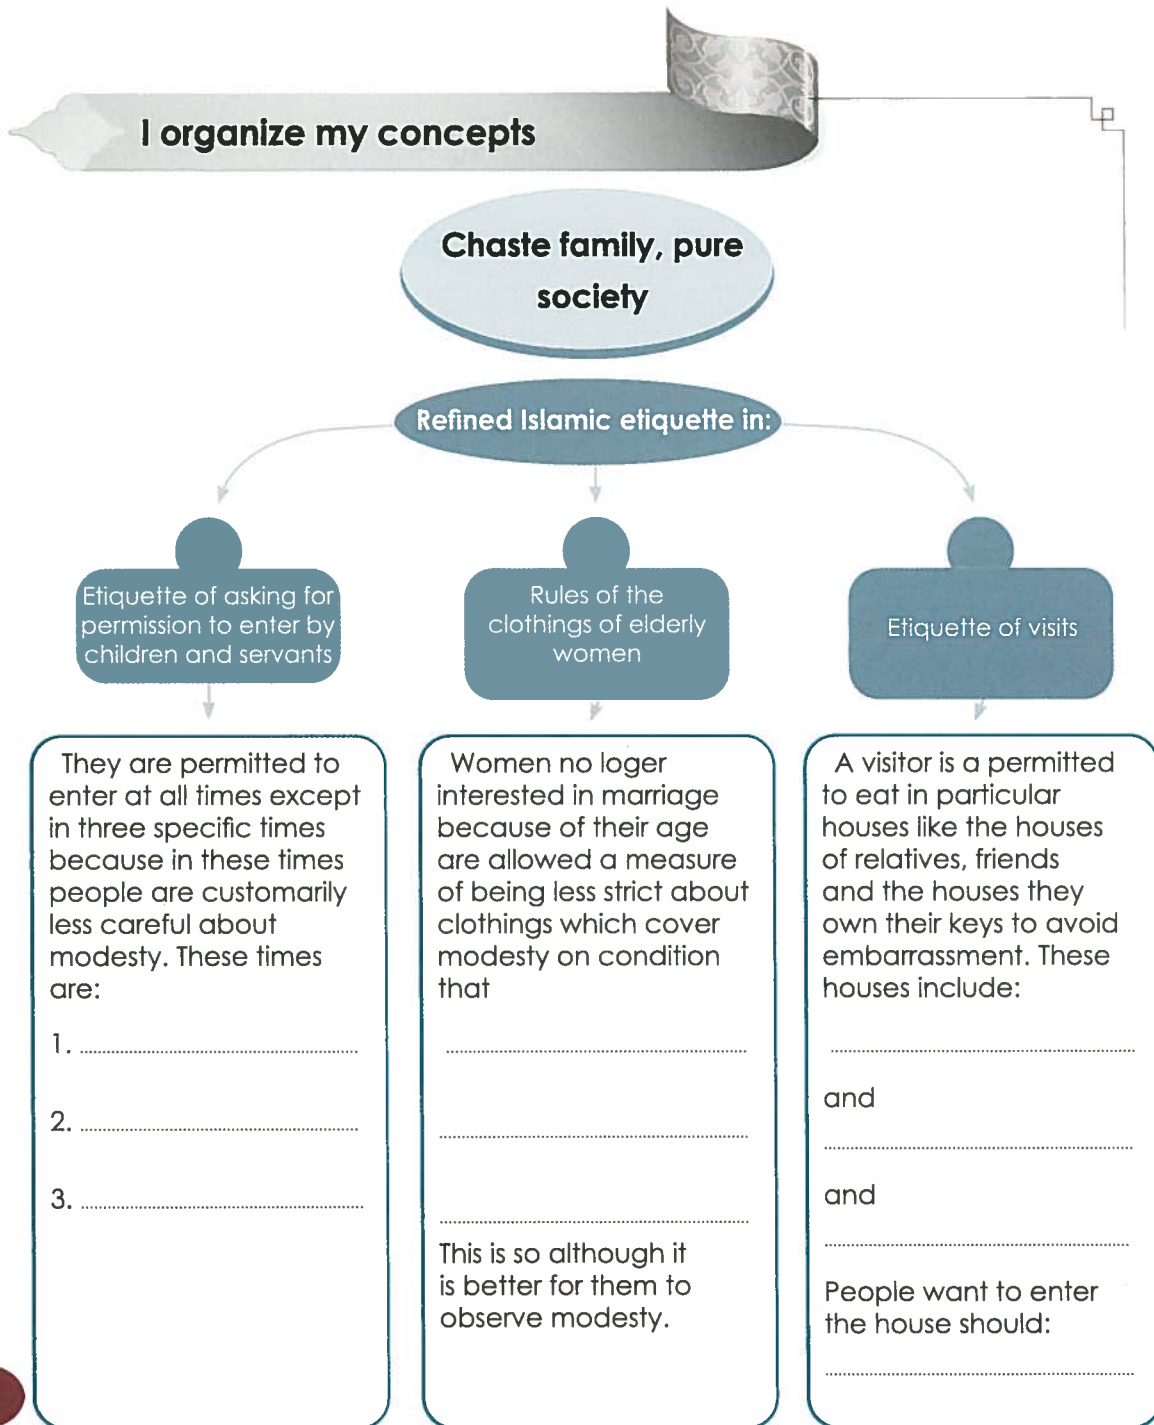

I expect:

The effects of of making greeting a customary conduct
Religiously	Socially
Earning reward by greeting and returning greeting.	Spreading love amongst people.

I propose a solution:

- Some guardians take things easily as regards teaching house maids and drivers the etiquette of asking permission of family members when entering upon them; this might give rise to the possibility of feeling embarrassed. Propose solutions to this problem and present them to your fellow students.

Proposed solutions:

LESSON 2

Politeness with the Messenger (ﷺ)

Sūrat An-Nūr 46-57

We read and explore

- read the holy verses from memory observing the rules of recitation.
- explain the vocabulary used in the holy verses.
- infer the etiquette of dealing with the Messenger (ﷺ) in the capacity of a ruler.
- clarify my position towards conflict between private and public interests.
- I make sure of obeying the Messenger (ﷺ).

I take the initiative to learn

Sūrat An-Nūr illuminated the expanses of Muslim society by the provision of legislations and organization of relations. This is done in a manner which makes society ethically and behaviorly distinguished and, therefore, positively effective on other civilizational aspects and on the material development of society.

"The etiquette of man is the essence of his happiness and success; nothing yields good in worldly life and in the Hereafter like etiquette. "

I identify

some legislations set by Sūrat An-Nūr to organize social relations in the verses I have studied previously.

I use my skills to learn

I recite and memorize:

سورة النور: 62 - 64

﴿ إِنَّمَا الْمُؤْمِنُونَ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا بِاللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ وَإِذَا كَانُوا مَعَهُ عَلَىٰ أَمْرٍ جَامِعٍ لَّمْ يَذْهَبُوا حَتَّىٰ يَسْتَأْذِنُوهُ إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يَسْتَأْذِنُونَكَ أُولَٰئِكَ الَّذِينَ يُؤْمِنُونَ بِاللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ فَإِذَا أَسْتَأْذِنُوكَ لِبَعْضِ شَأْنِهِمْ فَأَذَنَ لِمَن شِئْتَ مِنْهُمْ وَاسْتَغْفَرَ لَهُمُ اللَّهُ إِنَّ اللَّهَ غَفُورٌ رَّحِيمٌ ﴿٦٢﴾ لَا تَجْعَلُوا دُعَاءَ الرَّسُولِ بَيْنَكُمْ كَدُعَاءِ بَعْضِكُمْ بَعْضًا قَدْ يَعْلَمُ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ يَسْتَلُّونَ مِنْكُمْ لَوْ أَذًا فَلْيَحْذَرِ الَّذِينَ يُخَالِفُونَ عَنْ أَمْرِهِ أَن تُصِيبَهُمْ فِتْنَةٌ أَوْ يُصِيبَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ ﴿٦٣﴾ أَلَا إِنَّ لِلَّهِ مَا فِي السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْأَرْضِ قَدْ يَعْلَمُ مَا أَنْتُمْ عَلَيْهِ وَيَوْمَ يُرْجَعُونَ إِلَيْهِ فَيُنَبِّئُهُمْ بِمَا عَمِلُوا وَاللَّهُ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عَلِيمٌ ﴿٦٤﴾ ﴾

62. They only are the true believers who believe in Allah and His messenger and, when they are with him on some common errand, go not away until they have asked leave of him. Lo! Those who ask leave of you, those are they who believe in Allah and His messenger. So, if they ask your leave for some affair of theirs, give leave to whom you will of them, and ask for them forgiveness of Allah. Lo! Allah is All-Forgiving, All-Merciful.

63. Make not the calling of the messenger among you as your calling one of another. Allah knows those of you who steal away, hiding themselves. And let those who conspire to evade orders beware lest grief or painful punishment befall them.

64. Lo! Verily unto Allah belongs whatsoever is in the heavens and the earth. He knows your condition. And (He knows) the Day when they are returned unto Him so that He may inform them of what they did. Allah is All-Knower of all things.

I learn the explanation of Qur'anic vocabulary:

Vocabulary item	Explanation	My notes
أَمْرٍ جَامِعٍ ('Amrin Jāmi`in) common errand	An important matter requiring a meeting to organize cooperation.
دُعَاةَ الرَّسُولِ (Du`ā'a Ar-Rasūli) the calling of the messenger	A call by the Messenger to gather Muslims.
يَتَسَلَّلُونَ (Yatasallalūna) who steal away	Walk out stealthily.
لِيُؤَاذِيَ (Liwādhāa) hiding	Hiding one behind another.
يُخَالِفُونَ عَنْ أَمْرِهِ (Yukhālifūna `An 'Amrihi) evade orders	Do not obey him.
فِتْنَةً (Fitnatun) grief	Affliction.

I understand the significance of the verses

Of the perfection of the qualities of believers:

After having mentioned the etiquette of asking permission whether by the visitor or those inside the house of children and servants, the holy verses explain the etiquette of asking permission to leave the council of the Messenger (ﷺ) as a ruler. The verses demonstrate that those who are described as perfect believers are those who believed in Allah and His Messenger and never left the Messenger's council when meeting to discuss something of import to society until they ask permission to leave. This was done to teach the believers excuses for asking permission to leave the council; these excuses are limited to important matters only. The verses gave the Messenger (ﷺ) the right to accept or refuse the excuse given because he estimated whether the interest concerned dictated staying at the council or leaving it; this was so because the decision of the Prophet (ﷺ) did not stem from wishes but made on the basis of an excuse or interest. The verses tell the the Messenger (ﷺ) to ask forgiveness for those who request permission to leave as public interest has precedence over private interest and Allah is forgiving and merciful to those believers who ask permission to leave for an acceptable excuse.

Illuminations

Allah (تعالى) called His prophets by their names:

He said,

﴿...يَتَّادِمُ اسْكُنْ أَنْتَ وَزَوْجُكَ الْجَنَّةَ...﴾

(سورة البقرة: 35)

Yā 'Ādamu Askun 'Anta Wa Zawjuka Al-Jannata (Sūrat Al-Baqarah : 35)

“...O Adam! Dwell you and your wife in the Garden...”(Sūrat Al-Baqarah : 35).

And He said,

﴿قِيلَ يٰنُوحُ اهْبِطْ بِسَلَامٍ مِّنَّا...﴾

(سورة هود: 48)

Qīla Yā Nūhu Ahbiṭ Bisalāmin Minnā

“The word came: O Noah! Come down (from the Ark) with peace from Us...”(Sūrat Hūd : 48).

And He said,

(سورة الصافات)

104. Yā 'Ibrāhīmu

105. Qad Ṣaddaḡta Ar-Ru'uyā

104. "O Abraham!..."

105. "You have already fulfilled the vision!" - thus indeed do We reward those who do right. (Sūrat Aṣ-Ṣaffāt).

And He said,

﴿...يٰٓعِيسَى ابْنَ مَرْيَمَ ءَاَنْتَ قُلْتَ لِلنَّاسِ...﴾

(سورة المائدة: 116)

Yā `Īsá Abna Maryama 'A'anta Qulta Lilnnāsi

“...”O Jesus the son of Mary! Didst you say unto men...”(Sūrat Al-Mā'idah : 116)

And He said,

﴿يٰدَاوُدُ اِنَّا جَعَلْنَاكَ خَلِيفَةً فِى الْاَرْضِ...﴾

(سورة ص: 26)

Yā Dāwūdu 'Innā Ja `alnāka Khalīfatan Fī Al-'Ardī

“O David! We did indeed make you a vicegerent on earth...” (Sūrat Şād :26)

But He never called Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) by his named, but to call him He uses:

﴿يٰاَيُّهَا الرَّسُوْلُ...﴾: ﴿يٰاَيُّهَا النَّبِىُّ...﴾

Yā 'Ayyuhā Ar-Rasūlu- O Messenger; Yā 'Ayyuhā An-Nabīyu- O Prophet.

I find evidence

in the holy verse of the fact that the relationship between the commander and the soldier and the supervisor and the person being supervised is disciplined.

Respect and reverence:

After the previous verse explained the necessity of having the believers committing themselves to politeness with the Messenger (ﷺ) and never to leave his council except on permission given by him, the next verse explained the etiquette of addressing him. It is impermissible to call by him by his name: 'O Muhammad', 'O Bin Abdullah'; it is consistent with his honor to call him: 'O Messenger of Allah', 'O Prophet of Allah'.

As for those who stealthily sneak out of his council, hiding behind one another to leave his council without asking permission from him, those who disobey him, Allah warns them from great affliction falling on them in worldly life and severe punishment in the Afterlife. In Islam the relationship between the leader and his subjects is built on obedience, love, respect, kindness, friendly feelings and understanding. A life filled with these feelings strengthens the nation and elevates its rank.

The verses explain that disobeying the Messenger (ﷺ) is tantamount to disobeying Allah (عزَّ وجلَّ). Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) owns what is in the heavens and earth; he knows everything about people. People will return to Allah (عزَّ وجلَّ) and He will tell them of their deeds and He (عزَّ وجلَّ) knows everything and will hold them accountable for what they have done.

3	مَا أَنْتُمْ عَلَيْهِ (Mā 'Antum `Alayhi) your condition

Second, what is the Qur'anic expression indicating the explanation in each of the following statements:

- their interest

.....

- the obligation of asking the ruler permission to leave in assemblies concerning 'important matters'

.....

- Allah knows everything, and each human being will be held accountable for his deeds

.....

- respecting and revering the ruler is an obligation

Observance (Ittiba) and Imitation (Taqlid)

- explain the two types of imitation in rulings.
- make sure of adhering to sound scientific thinking.

I take the initiative to learn

The mission of all prophets consisted in following what is right after thorough thinking and, therefore, this mission had been characterized by clarity and transparency. Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Qul Hadhihi Sabīlī 'Ad`ū 'Ilá Allāhi `Alá Baṣīratin 'Anā Wa Mani Attaba`anī

“Say you: “This is my way: I do invite unto Allah, - on evidence clear as the seeing with one's eyes, - I and whoever follows me...” (Sūrat Yūsuf: 108).

Allah (تَعَالَى) commanded His Messenger Muhammad (ﷺ) to explain to the people what has been revealed to him; Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

(سورة النحل: 44)

Wa 'Anzalnā 'Ilayka Adh-Dhikra Litubayyina Lilnāsi Mā Nuzzila 'Ilayhim Wa La`allahum Yatafakkarūna

“...And We have sent down unto you (also) the Message; that you may explain clearly to men what is sent for them, and that they may give thought” Sūrat An-Naḥl :44).

People are supposed to follow the the commands of Allah (تَعَالَى) after thorough thinking and do what is due to their Lord as He (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) wants.

The Companions (رضي الله عنهم) used to ask the Prophet (ﷺ) many questions to verify what was right and do it with awareness and perception. When the Prophet (ﷺ) held out his tongue and said to Mu'adh bin Jabal (رضي الله عنه) 'Restrain this', Mu'adh said 'O Prophet of Allah, will what we say be held against us?' He said 'May your mother be bereaved of you Mu'adh! Is there anything that topples people on their noses into Hell-fire other than the jests of their tongues' (Narrated by Bin Majah)?

I expect:

Other reasons for the questions of the Companions (رضي الله عنهم) addressed to the Prophet (ﷺ).

I discuss:

The following statement: "The question is half the answer".

I use my skills to learn

The concept of observance:

Observance denotes taking the Prophet (ﷺ) as an example to be emulated and following his confirmed Sunnah. Allah (تعالى) has commanded his servants to do this saying:

*Wa Mā 'Ātakumu Ar-Rasūlu Fakhudhūhu Wa Mā Nahākum `Anhu
Fāntahū WaAttaqū Allaha 'Inna Allāha Shadīdu Al-'Iqābi*

“...So take what the Messenger assigns to you, and deny yourselves that which he withholds from you. And fear Allah. for Allah is strict in Punishment” (Sūrat Al-Ĥashr: 7)

Observance also means following scholars and the way they interpret the Qur'an and Sunnah. In both meanings observance is to be based on evidence and argument. Acting according to what the Prophet (ﷺ) said, did and approved is observance as Allah (تعالى) has commanded; acting according to the view of a scholar, which is based on evidence and argument is observance too predicated on Sharia evidence and not sheer adherence to the view of the scholar.

I draw a comparison:

between the following in the table below in terms of difference:

Observance
Innovation
Creativity

I think and discover:

The effect of the acts in the table below on society:

Observance
Innovation
Creativity

I reflect and decide:

what matches the case below of the concepts referred to in the table above:

- abiding by the laws issued by the guardian (the ruler)

Other sources of legislation and observance

The Qur'an and Sunnah are the first and second sources of legislation; but there are other sources like ijma' (consensus), qiyas (analogical reason) and others. All these sources are confirmed by Sharia evidence as demonstrated in the lesson on sources of Islamic Sharia. Acting according to the findings reached by these sources is observance especially that theologians have built their rulings on the basis of these sources in conformance to scientific and methodological controls free of fanciful pursuits and personal interests. Studying the evidence presented by these theologians is available to people.

The importance of studying the evidence put forward by scholars reveals itself in that it increases the knowledge of those who study this evidence. This increase of knowledge is achieved by examining different kinds of evidence, analyzing them and comparing them one to another as well as understanding the methods scholars employ in deducing rulings from evidence. Also, this process involves reinforcing people's appreciation of sincere scholars in any field and enhances confidence in their efforts.

Moreover, a Muslim has the right to choose from the views of theologians what is suitable to his capabilities and circumstances of his time on the basis of the evidence presented by these theologians. Imam Malik (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) said every scholar is either followed or not except the man in this grave- meaning Allah's Messenger (ﷺ). Not acting according to the view of one scholar is not kfur (disbelief) or sin; in spite of their difference, jurists used to appreciate and respect one another.

I explain:

the fact that acting according to what has been built on consensus is observance.

I read and answer

according to the following fatwa issued by the Ifta' Official Center:

Alhamdulillahil rabbil-'alamin was salatu was salamu 'ala ashrifil al-mursalin nabiyyina Muhammad wa 'ala alihi wa sahbihi ajma'in. Amma ba'ad

We ask Allah, al-'Alī'Al-Qadir, to facilitate to you in showing filial piety to your father and to truly consider how to help him. Your father's right upon you is great and showing filial piety to him is a duty. In Sunan Bin Majah it was narrated from Jabir bin 'Abd-Allaah (رضي الله عنه) that a man said: "O Messenger of Allaah, I have wealth and children, but my father wants to take all my wealth." He said, "You and your wealth are for your father."

The knowledgeable scholar Bin Battal (رَحِمَهُ اللهُ) said in his explanation of Sahih Al Bukhar i: "This means piety and obedience not the obligatory and the judicially imposed". Paraphrased this means that money is to be paid to parents in times of poverty and need; in other than these two cases, it is just a form of kindness and benevolence, and it is not an obligation.

On the basis of this, talk to your father kindly and explain to him your financial obligations; talk to him in nice words. Emphasize to him that you will help him whenever you can afford this. Be sure that your father will be pleased with you if you tell the truth, ask help from Allah, talk to him in kind words and help him as much your means allow. It is not conditional that you tell him that you have sufficient money. Attached fatwas include more on this. Success is from Allah.

In short, supplicate as much as you can for your father, talk to him in a kind way and help him with what you can afford whenever this is possible. Success is from Allah.

- Summarize the style of Ifta' Official Center in answering the questions of callers, Identify the evidence on whose basis the Center issued the above fatwa.

I reflect and explain:

the element of observance in the following:

- One of Omar's wives (رضي الله عنهما) used to witness the dawn and night prayers in congregation in the mosque. People said to her "Why do you go out while you know that Omar dislikes this and feels jealous?" She said 'What stops him from preventing me?' They said the saying of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ),

"Do not prevent your women from attending the mosque" (Narrated by Al-Bukhair).

- 'Abis bin Rabi'a (رضي الله عنه) said: "I saw Omar kiss the Black Stone and say 'I kiss you knowing that you are a stone. Had I not seen Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) kiss you, I would not have kissed you'" (Narrated by Muslim).

Imitation:

Islam has been keen on building a scientific mentality on the basis of research, reflection and discovery. The goal of such mentality is to discern truth and what is right to continuously review its positions and immediately drop what is wrong because it rejects fanciful thinking and fanaticism, which hinder progress, construction and prosperity and push people backward. The Holy Qur'an warns against the conduct of fanatics who refuse the opinion of others without thinking arguing:

﴿... إِنَّا وَجَدْنَا آبَاءَنَا عَلَىٰ أُمَّةٍ وَإِنَّا عَلَىٰ آثَرِهِمْ مُّهْتَدُونَ﴾

(سورة الزخرف: 22)

'Innā Wajadnā 'Ābā'anā `Alā 'Ummatin Wa 'Innā `Alā 'Āthārihim Muhtadūna

"... We found our fathers following a certain religion, and we do guide ourselves by their footsteps" (Sūrat Az-Zukhruf: 22).

This is duplication of mistakes and regeneration of ignorance and misguidance.

I reflect and answer

on the basis of this verse and according to the table below:

Wa 'Idhā Fa`alū Fāhishatan Qālū Wajadnā `Alayhā`Abā'anā Wa Allāhu `Amaranā Bihā Qul 'Inna Allāha Lā Ya'muru Bil-Fāhshā'i 'Ataqūlūna `Alá Allāhi Mā Lā Ta`lamūna

"When they do anything that is shameful, they say: "We found our fathers doing so"; and "(Allah) commanded us thus": Say: "Nay, Allah never commands what is shameful: do you say of Allah what you know not?" (Sūrat Al-'A`rāf: 28)

The worst kind of imitation referred to in the verse
Explain: indulging in shameful acts contradicts the mind and religion

The concept of imitation:

Imitation means that the imitator accepts the views of others without verification or backing up evidence; the origin of imitation is fanaticism, ignorance and fancifulness. In this sense, imitation becomes a barrier to dialogue and a cause of a decreasing level coexistence and cooperation. Also, it reflects a negative image of Islam suggesting that Islam calls to reliving the past only. This is inconceivable as Islam is perpetually valid through time and space. It also reflects an incorrect image of Muslims suggesting that they think via something other than their minds, that they do not use their minds. This is also untrue as the achievements of Muslim scholars utterly attest to the contrary- instances of these achievements include Abū Ḥanīfa's al- Fiqhat-taqdiry (speculative jurisprudence), Bin al-Haythamin Optics and Physics, Jābir bin Hayyān in Chemistry and many others.

Hazards associated with imitation

Imitation is associated with many hazards including:

1. Fanaticism and egocentricity:

Both these stir disputes and divisiveness between people leading to leveling charges against others and finding faults with them; this may amount to takfir (accusation of apostacy) and eventually to diffusion of animosity amongst people.

2. Refusal to accept what is right:

some imitators believe that whatever opposes their stance is false even if it is a correct hadith of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ).

3. Intellectual rigidity:

Imitation robs intellectual activity of striving to keep abreast of the spirit of the age and finding solutions suitable to the renewable conditions of life in every age.

I expect

other hazards of imitations to the individual:

.....

.....

Imitation in Fiqh rulings:

In Fiqh rulings, imitation is divided into two:

1. Permissible imitation:

An instance of this is when an ordinary Muslim follows one madhhab (school of thought) of correct fiqh madhhib (schools of thought), or follows the opinion of one of the scholars known for knowledge, piety and religious devotion as indicate by the words of Allah (تعالى):

Fās'alū 'Ahla Adh-Dhikri 'In Kuntum Lā Ta 'lamūna (Sūrat An-Naḥl: 43)

“...if you realise this not, ask of those who possess the Message”(Sūrat An-Naḥl: 43).

2. Impermissible imitation:

It is blameworthy (مذموم mazmoum) and the case in point here is when a Muslim believes that he has to absolutely follow a certain school of thought or a particular mujtahid (a scholar qualified to perform ijtiḥad, i.e. independent reasoning) and that it is not permissible to disagree with this in any circumstances.

I deduce

on the basis of the holy verse and according to the table below:

Allah (تَعَالَى) says:

Fās'alū 'Ahla Adh-Dhikri 'In Kuntum Lā Ta`lamūna (Sūrat An-Naḥl: 43)

“...if you realise this not, ask of those who possess the Message”(Sūrat An-Naḥl: 43).

Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan

(رَحْمَةُ اللهِ)

We read and explore

- 1. explain the effect of upbringing on the character of Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ).
- 2. identify the rank of the union in the thought of Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ).
- 3. explain the vision of Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ) as to building the Emirati society.
- 4. identify the efforts of Sheikh Zayed, (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ) in serving Islam and Muslims.
- 5. infer the lessons learned from the biography of Sheikh Zayed, (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ).

I take the initiative to learn

Islam calls for cohesion, sympathy and unity. On the other hands, it calls for the rejecting factionalization and divisiveness, which waste the energies of society. Also, the current and future interests require uniting all in one entity to protect their interests, preserve their existence and ward off dangers.

With this as a point of departure, the rulers of the Emirates sowed the seeds of the union, which has preserved the security of the UAE and its people, realized progress and prosperity and won the state the respect and admiration of the world.

I reflect and answer:

- How did the idea of the union of the Arab Emirates begin?

- What were the Sharia texts used by Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ) to establish the idea of cohesion and affinity in the hearts of the Emirates people?

The upbringing of Sheikh Zayed:

Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) was born in Abu Dhabi in 1918; he was the youngest son among four brothers, who were the sons Sheikh Sultan bin Zayed Al Nahyan who ruled the Emirate of Abu Dhabi in the period 1922-1926. After the death of his father, Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) moved to Al Ain where he studied the Holy Qur'an, hafith and Arabic language.

Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) grew up in Al Ain oasis in the depth of the Emirates desert with its purity and quietness. He lived with and amongst the people of Al Ain and the tribes surrounding it and knew their hopes and pains, participated in their joys and sorrows. He was characterized by modesty, originality, farsightedness, stamina, generosity, loyalty and courtesy. He loved all and worked for their good combining all the necessary qualities of bearing responsibility and hence won the hearts and minds of all.

These special circumstances of upbringing left indelible imprints on his life and character, which he later on translated into conduct, action and remarkable achievements. He dedicated his life to the prosperity of this homeland and the happiness of its people exerting unprecedented efforts for the sake of his people; he did this with love, sincerity and honesty.

the leadership qualities in the character of Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ):

The idea of the union in the thought of Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ):

When one reflects on the biography of Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ), one will clearly see that he believed in the union as a means to a better life and a promising future. With his brother Sheikh Rashid bin Saeed Al Maktoum (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ), he called for establishing a union of the Emirates. In spite of the hardships which accompanied that journey, Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) succeeded with his political experience and wisdom in establishing the union and founding the United Arab Emirates.

His belief in the union also showed in his quest for realizing the interests of the region and his keenness on establishing the Gulf Cooperation Council. The concept of federation and bringing people together were always present in his thought; he exerted much effort in bridging gaps between brothers and friends. He said on one occasion, "Our country is a part of the Arab nation; we are unified by religion, history, pains and hopes".

I infer

the props of the union in the quotes of Sheikh Zayed in the following table:

Quotes of Sheikh Zayed	The concept of union
"The ties of brotherhood, religion and common interests between the sisterly Emirates are a firm fact."
"O people, you must know that your homeland is like your father. We will not experience any might, dignity, prestige or influence without this homeland; it is your life and protector."
"In the federation we follow a long-term policy and do not take hasty decisions. We do this after studies, examination, discussions and consultations; our goal is only public interest."

The philosophy of Zayed in construction and modernization:

Man was the first prop to be accorded great attention by Sheikh Zayed as man is a factor exercising mutual effect with society and the basis of any progress and ascendancy process. Building man in the stage following the union was a necessity and a national priority which was given preference over all facilities. Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) focused on building schools and founding universities. He also established youth centers and sport clubs for young men and women, adults and children alike in addition to sending students on study courses abroad. At the same time the march of construction began in various fields.

I explain:

The significance of the words of Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ):

"Irrespective of the number of buildings, facilities and hospitals we build, the number of bridges we construct, the end result will be material entities without soul, incapable of continuity. The soul of all this is man, who is capable with his thought and art to maintain all these facilities".

I expect:

the difficulties which faced Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) in the process of development and construction on the basis of his words:

"It is easy to build architectural and agricultural associations; this requires engineers and construction materials only. But dealing with human beings is totally different; it is not easy to convince men overnight; making people adopt certain customs in the place of others is not perceptually easy".

.....

Sheikh Zayed in the service of Islam and Muslims:

"We must know that the Islamic religion is the foundation . When Islam came to the Arabs - and we were a part of them- we had customs and norms and Islam corrected many of these customs and norms, including the bad customs of Jahiliyyah".

Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) was a Muslim leader with deep-rooted faith and, therefore, his humanity emanated from the principles of Islam. The efforts exerted by the UAE in supporting Muslims spread in the world far and wide. Wherever need arose, Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) extended a helping hand to alleviate the sufferings of people and thus presented a true image of moderate, middle-way Islam.

Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) was keen on serving the Book of Allah (تَعَالَى); this was behind launching Zayed Qur'an Memorization Project in mosques spread across the UAE. Many benefited from this project and this has continued up to today. He also hosted an elite group of scholars to direct society and spread awareness in conformance to the principles of true Islam. He also accorded attention to middle-way religious education in schools, colleges and universities to channel into society graduates carrying messages of tolerance, love and giving to people.

Outside the UAE he had many humanitarian projects including projects to reduce the cost of marriage for young men planning to get married, building hospitals, schools and houses. An instance of this is the reconstruction of Janin camp and handing over the houses to their owners under the supervision of the UAE sons. Another example is relief work as in Pakistan after an earthquake. He used to say, "We befriend others with honor, cooperate with dignity and assist without bragging or boasting".

I summarize:

using the book titled Spirit of the Union of the stances of Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ) with respect to:

Sheikh Zayed serving humanity:

Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ) said, "Cooperation between men is conducive to mutual mercifulness, which we are urged by the Creator (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) to exercise towards one another; man must be merciful to his brother in humanity".

This is the point of departure of Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ) in serving humanity; this is his view of people, which is rooted in mercifulness and humanitarian brotherhood. He was the first in alleviating suffering from the people of world; wherever a calamity befalls people, you will find the UAE among the first states in extending help, assistance and expertise of the highest caliber and exerting efforts to remove the effects of catastrophes. This is an embodiment of the saying of the Prophet (ﷺ): "The best of people are those who are most beneficial to people" (al-Jaami' as-Sagheer).

The efforts of Sheikh Zayed (رَحْمَةُ اللهِ) were not restricted to assistance in times of crises; they went beyond that to spreading culture, knowledge and developing man wherever he exists. Instances of this include Zayed Cultural Center in Sweden, Zayed College for Girls in New Zealand, Shaikh Zayed Endowment Fund for Islamic Studies in Britain, Zayed Regional Eye Care Centre in The Gambia and other numerous scientific, health and cultural centers. These projects were supervised by the Zayed Bin Sultan Al-Nahayan Charitable and Humanitarian Foundation, which is considered a beacon of humanitarian action worldwide.

﴿... قَالَ أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ أَنْ أَكُونَ مِنَ الْجَاهِلِينَ﴾

(سورة البقرة: 67)

Qāla 'A'ūdhu Billāhi~ 'An 'Akūna Mina Al-Jāhilīn

He said: "(Allah) save me from being an ignorant (fool)!" (Sūrat Al-Baqarah: 67)

Our Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) says through a verse:

﴿قُلْ هَذِهِ سَبِيلِي أَدْعُو إِلَى اللَّهِ عَلَى بَصِيرَةٍ أَنَا وَمَنِ اتَّبَعَنِي...﴾

Qul Hadhihi Sabīlī 'Ad`ū 'Ilá Allāhi `Alá Baṣīratin 'Anā Wa Mani Attaba`anī

Say you: "This is my way: I do invite unto Allah,- on evidence clear as the seeing with one's eyes,- I and whoever follows me..."

If ignorance is conducive to backwardness and the emergence of civil strife and corrupt practices, science is the light illuminating minds and hearts, the means of perceiving of the the Creator, the path to progress and prosperity and the foundation of the rise, civility and development of nations. Islam combated ignorance in a measure equal to that of urging people to pursue knowledge and elevate the rank of science and scintists. Allah, تَعَالَى, says:

Yarfa`i Allāhu Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū Minkum Wa Al-Ladhīna 'Ūtū Al-' Ilma Darajātin (Sūrat Al-Mujādilh: 11)

“Allah will rise up, to (suitable) ranks (and degrees), those of you who believe and who have been granted (mystic) Knowledge...” (Sūrat Al-Mujādilh: 11).

Illuminations

(The difference between science and knowledge)

Science pre-exists knowledge; it is the path to knowledge. If man scientifically perceives of something through research, thinking and grasping, he then knows this thing. Science is a concept broader and more comprehensive than knowledge because it is specific to the properties and facts of things. On the other hand, knowledge relates to the essence of things. The most significant example of this is the way the Messenger (ﷺ) ordered us to think of the creations of Allah (تَعَالَى) and his attributes and not to think of His essence. Therefore, we can maintain that denial is the opposite of knowledge and ignorance is the opposite of science.

I explain:

the relation between science and knowledge, on the one hand, and the economic situation of states and people, on the other.

I use my skills to learnA concise summary of economic development:

The economic development of the nations of the world has been linked throughout history to the scientific development of man, to his intellectual innovations, to his ability to produce knowledge and to his quest for improving his circumstances and realizing welfare. Man has passed through several economic stages including agricultural economy and industrial economy in which land, capital and workers constituted the essential components of production. However, under the reality of the changes which the world has witnessed in various fields, particularly the technological and informational development, man has exerted the ability to innovate and create in the domain of the means and techniques of production. Having possessed this ability, man is now able to transform information into knowledge and consequently transform this knowledge into a distinct product of economic value so much so that this type of economy has been given many names including 'Knowledge Economy' or 'Knowledge-based Economy'.

The concept of 'knowledge economy':

Using knowledge to develop resources and increase production and linking production to the needs of man have made knowledge a propeller of economy and an economic necessity. This shift has achieved great economic outcomes as 'knowledge economy' is based on gathering, generating, increasing, saving, protecting and retrieving information at any time to provide what is required by decision makers to take the appropriate decisions in the shortest possible time. This has saved the time and effort required to conduct studies, researches and analyses in order to make decisions.

I infer:

in cooperation with my group a difference between 'knowledge economy' and 'production economy'.

The importance of 'knowledge economy':

The importance of 'knowledge economy' increases as a result of its ability to provide necessary data required for sound planning in all fields of life. This renders all types of economy in dire need for this economy and this is clear in many matters including:

- accuracy and speed in providing information and the ease with which this information is accessed,
- the capacity to provide proposals, project and analyze findings and presenting alternatives,
- saving time and effort,
- the capacity to identify the necessary requirements of work, such as expertise and skills, preparing these requirements, identifying the requirements of developing products and identifying the extent of the need to increase, reduce or control products,

- direct communication between producer and consumer, identifying the tendencies and desires of consumers and obtaining direct feedback from them,
- reducing costs and minimizing procedure and hence reducing prices or controlling prices and their stability.

In reality 'knowledge economy' is developing fast and realizing huge returns. The tools of this economy such as search engines and knowledge software and their management now represent a huge financial and economic value not only in the field of economy, but in all fields of life.

I investigate:

other contemporary factors which have increased the importance of 'knowledge economy'.

Islam and economy:

In the lesson on 'Islamic Economic System' we learned that economy and wealth in Islam constitute the backbone of life in addition to the fact that a strong economy is actually strength to the individual, society and the homeland. The Prophet (ﷺ) said,

"A strong believer is better and is more lovable to Allah than a weak believer" (Narrated by Muslim).

In this hadith what is meant is strength in all its senses including economic strength. The purposes (مقاصد maqasid) of Islamic Shariainclude preserving the five necessities and preserving their constituents; economy plays a major role in protecting these necessities and in their continuity in their best conditions. The advanced world is now oriented towards 'knowledge economy' because it has proven its importance and its real economic power.

From the above it becomes clear that it is the duty of a Muslim to build a strong economy based on knowledge as a necessary factor in achieving economic growth and prosperity, keeping abreast with the spirit of the age and the progress being lived in the world and avoiding backwardness and isolation from the surrounding world.

The biography of the Prophet (ﷺ) shows his keenness on science and knowledge; this is evidenced by the fact that he made the ransom of a prisoner of war teaching ten Muslim children writing and reading instead of an amount of money. He also asked Zayd bin Thabit to learn Syriac and Hebrew languages. This interest in science and knowledge has continued throughout history as evidenced by establishing diwans and libraries and the interest in, and encouragement of, translation.

I summarize:

the position of Islam towards 'knowledge economy'.

I explain:

The economic dimensions of worshipping in Islam in the following texts:

- Allah (تعالى) says:

27. *Wa 'Adhdhin Fī An-Nāsi Bil-Ĥajji Ya'tūka Rijālāan Wa 'Alā
Kulli Ġāmirin Ya'tīna Min Kulli Fajjin 'Amīqin*

28. *Liyash/hadū Manāfi 'a Lahum Wa Yadhkurū Asma Allāhi
Fī 'Ayyāmin Ma 'lūmātin*

27. "And proclaim the Pilgrimage among men: they will come to you on foot and (mounted) on every kind of camel, lean on account of journeys through deep and distant mountain highways;

28. "That they may witness the benefits (provided) for them, and celebrate the name of Allah, through the Days appointed, over the cattle which He has provided for them (for sacrifice): then eat you thereof and feed the distressed ones in want."
(Sūrat Al-Ĥaj)

- The economic dimension of Haj:

- 'Abdullah bin 'Amr bin al-'Aas (رضي الله عنهما) reported that the Prophet (ﷺ) passed by Sa'd when he was doing wudoo', and he said, "What is this extravagance, O Sa'd?" He said: "Can there be any extravagance in wudoo'?" He said, "Yes, even if you are on the bank of a flowing river" (Musnad Ahmed).

The economic dimension of prayer and ablution (wudoo'):

The constituents of 'knowledge economy':

1. the economic factor as it is the product and target of knowledge,
2. a developed educational system based on scientific research, problem solving and characterized by by innovation and creativity provided that work continues to link it to the labor market,

3. an appropriate infrastructure such as providing Internet services, means of communication and the necessary equipment,
4. communicating with others around the world and keeping abreast with developments and scientific breakthroughs,
5. benefiting efficiently from the revolution in information and technology.

Illuminations

'knowledge economy' is the difference between expenditure on knowledge industry through research and development, preparation and training and the returns on this process, which is restricted to knowledge production, acquisition, diffusion or saving as is the case with developing countries.

As for 'knowledge-based economy', it is the application of 'knowledge economy' to all economic and social activities within an integrated system as is the case of industrial countries, which have benefited a lot from the scientific and technological revolution and used it in various fields. An instance of this is that these countries have been able to use the information and communication technology in conducting remote surgical operations.

I express a point of view:

on the availability of the elements mentioned above in the Arab World and give examples.

I expect:

New tasks for the human element in 'knowledge economy':

..... ..... .....

Knowledge economy and the foundations of economy in Islam:

Islam laid down the foundations of economic activity in society including belief-related foundations. Wealth is a blessing and man has to be thankful in words by thanking the one who bestowed this blessing, who is Allah (تَعَالَى) and in deeds through the necessity of respecting the blessing and putting it in its right place. Islam also laid down legislative fundamentals to realize mercifulness and tolerance in transactions, facilitating things for people and sustaining solidarity. Furthermore, Islam laid down legislative foundations proscribing cheating, betrayal and falsely taking the wealth of others (such as riba, gambling and bribe), as well as guaranteeing the rights of others.

These foundations apply to the 'knowledge economy'; they are in the place of controls on the stability of economic transactions between people in addition to matters pertinent directly to 'knowledge economy' including:

- respect of privacy: in matters pertinent to the data of others; these are rights specific to others and should not be violated without a legitimate justification such as asking permission from the owner of the rights, for instance.
- observing the rights of intellectual property: in relation to software, systems of saving information, trade marks and others as exposing them to danger or violation incur damage on their owners and Allah's

Messenger (ﷺ) said, "There is not to be any causing of harm nor is there to be any reciprocating of harm" (Narrated by al-Bayhaqi).

- commitment to the laws issued by the guardian: which relate to 'knowledge economy', production, marketing and guaranteeing customer rights. Allah (تعالى) says:

Yā 'Ayyuhā Al-Ladhīna 'Āmanū 'Aṭī' ū Allaha Wa 'Aṭī' ū Ar-Rasūla Wa 'Ūlī Al-'Amri Minkum (Sūrat An-Nisā': 59)

"O you who believe! Obey Allah, and obey the Messenger, and those charged with authority among you..." (Sūrat An-Nisā': 59).

The UAE enacted laws to protect intellectual property and combat E-crime and other offences of a similar nature.

I classify:

The following according to the table below in cooperation with my group:

- Knowledge economy avails every individual in society of an opportunity to create and participate in production.
- It facilitates duplicating products and bypass the rights of intellectual property in 'knowledge economy'.
- introduction of knowledge products in many human activities,
- the ability to generate and produce types of created knowledge might lead to cancelling the previous product,

- a flexible economy in which appropriate technology is allowed to be used in order to create virtual markets and facilities that cancel tempo-spatial restrictions,
- reduced product cost and easiness of competition might lead to reducing profits or gross losses,
- the strength and quality of knowledge products might lead to monopoly,
- contributes to global openness and increasing communication between societies.

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES MINISTRY OF EDUCATION

The Ministry coordinates with national higher education institutions to admit students in various majors in line with the needs of the labour market and future human development plans. Higher Education institutions also determine the number of students that can be admitted according to their capabilities, mission and goals. They also set the conditions for students' admission to various programmes according to the stream they graduated from, the levels of their performance in the secondary stage, and their results from the Emirates Standard Assessment Test.

Integration and coordination between General and Higher Education systems allow for the approval and calculation of school study courses within university studies according to the school stream and university specialisation, which reduces the duration of university studies.
